Recollections of Gordon Dailey who attended 1926 to 1934.

I have no recorded history of the formation of this rural school in Latah County, Idaho. The land was located on the homestead of Lewis Roberts. It was built at least as early as 1890 or before. My father Harry Dailey attended there and in the picture he appears to be about 12 years old making the picture taken in 1902. The land was section 30; Township 42 and Range 5 and the schools were numbered according to the section in which they were built. Great grandfather Robert K. Dailey had homesteaded in Township 42 in 1873 and proved up in 1876. He must have been instrumental in getting the school established since the name is Dalley. I find no record of the building or drilling of the well. The well was located on the porch, which was on the north end of the building. The pump is still in place as the only remaining evidence of the location. The building was built originally with windows on both the east and west. Before I started the west side was boarded up because of the heat and afternoon sun. It was one large room with a cloakroom partitioned off where coats, hats, boots, lunches, and miscellaneous things were hung, shelved or put on the floor. The floor was a bit uneven and tough on the knees of our trousers when we played marbles or other games during bad weather. This was evident because of the number of patched knees on overalls.

DALLEY SCHOOL - Early school in the NW part of the county, 5 miles NW of Portneux - constructed between 1905 and continuing through 1918, when students were bused to Pahrump, NV.
