SUBJECT: SRBA Claims A37-00480D, 02567B, Lloyd Moore

I have reviewed the ASCS aerial photos and slides for the Bellevue Farms Subdivision for 1987 thru 1996. This subdivision surrounds the Moore property on 3 sides. I thought Moore was in the subdivision, so I made a record of the irrigation on his property during these years also. His property was irrigated by gravity thru 1993; no data was found for 1994. Then in 1995, the ground was irrigated by sprinkler; this also occurred in 1996. The old ditches that were prominent thru 1993 were no longer there in 1995. Under gravity irrigation, the southwest corner of the Moore property (a little over 3 acres) was dry. In 1995 & '96. however, this ground has been irrigated. So this appears to be an illegal increase in the number of historically-irrigated acres. The home in the northeast corner of the property has been there since 1977 according to a domestic claim filed by Moore. The home area covers about 1.5 acres.

Per conversation with Allen, memo goes to SRBA files. No action is proposed regarding possible illegal diversion until claim review is completed. Owner has claimed 40 acres irrigated.
