RE: Snake River Basin Adjudication
A37-08199, A37-08200, A37-08217, A37-00862A

Dear Mrs. Hansing:

By the time you receive this I hope you are recovering rapidly from your injuries.

On this water right claiming business, I think all of us would be well served to start at square one. The paper trail is terribly confusing.

Three of the prepared claims represent permits or licenses you have on record with this agency. Only A37-08199 (below Civil Case No. 39576 in the upper-right corner) is confirmed previously by a license. The other two, A37-08200 and A37-08217, are in the permit stage awaiting full development and/or licensure following a field examination of the water rights. From my conversation with Sue Lipsey, these three water rights seem to cover the water rights.

A37-08199	Purdum Slough Recreation and Aesthetics

From looking at the water rights and Ms. Lipsey's descriptions, you have the slough water right (A37-08199) supplemented by the well (A37-08217). The house well is A37-08200.

That much is fairly straightforward. Added to this, however, is the presence of a water right decreed to a predecessor that may be appurtenant to your land. This water right is described by A37-00862A covering the irrigation you do from the pond via the upstream ditch and slough. This is why A37-08199 probably does not describe any irrigation as its uses.

The claims you are not required to file are A37-08200 and A37-08217. These permit water rights have not progressed in their development process to require filing claims. Proof of Beneficial Use, as it is called, is not due until 1990 or later. You will be notified of the time Proof is due. You will also be notified, if you do not file claims now, if and when claims in the adjudication must be filed.

Due to the conveyance of property questions, I am also not convinced you should file a claim on A37-00862A. The bottom line may be, if in doubt, claim it.

Fees:

A37-00862A	$52.00
A37-08199	$90.00
A37-08200	$50.00
A37-08217	$90.00

This letter will supersede correspondence from this office dated December 16, 1988 and January 3, 1989, except as the late fee applies. Let's use this letter as a basis to follow up on the initial claim(s) you filed.

I am concerned about the time delay in responding to the previous correspondence. If you feel you have justifiable reasons for not responding sooner, please use the enclosed Request for Extension of Time form. Otherwise, please enclose an additional $50.00 per claim to cover the late fees.

Thank you for struggling with this matter while you recuperate from your injuries. Please call if you would like to discuss this matter further. As an alternative your husband may want to discuss these water rights with one of the staff in the Twin Falls office. For an appointment, please call 734-3578.
