Subject: Application for Transfer 86307 (Daskalos)

Daniel,

I was working with Chris Gaughn on a couple of water right transfer applications in the Lemhi River basin. One application, filed by Andrew and Kathleen Knight, proposed to move water right 74-1078 from the L-39 diversion to the L-42 diversion. The change would allow the L-39 diversion to be removed entirely. The application was protested. In an effort to resolve the protests, a separate transfer application was filed for Spiro Daskalos, proposing to move water right 74-1061 from the L-42 diversion to the L-40 diversion. The protest period for the Daskalos transfer application recently ended and no protests were filed. We are now prepared to approve the transfer, but I wanted to check in with you before issuing the approval. I thought the Daskalos application was filed to facilitate resolution of the protests against the Knight application. As you are probably aware, the Knights withdrew their application a couple of weeks ago. If the Knight project is off the table, does that mean that the Daskalos change is no longer needed? Or, should we proceed with approving the Daskalos transfer?
