(To be used in connection with actions when a hearing was not held)

(Required by Rule of Procedure 730.02)

The accompanying order or approved document is a "Preliminary Order" issued by the department pursuant to section 67-5243, Idaho Code. It can and will become a final order without further action of the Department of Water Resources ("department") unless a party petitions for reconsideration, files an exception and brief, or requests a hearing as further described below:

PETITION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Any party may file a petition for reconsideration of a preliminary order with the department within fourteen (14) days of the service date of this order. Note: the petition must be received by the department within this fourteen (14) day period. The department will act on a petition for reconsideration within twenty-one (21) days of its receipt, or the petition will be considered denied by operation of law. See Section 67-5243(3) Idaho Code.

EXCEPTIONS AND BRIEFS

Within fourteen (14) days after: (a) the service date of a preliminary order, (b) the service date of a denial of a petition for reconsideration from this preliminary order, or (c) the failure within twenty-one (21) days to grant or deny a petition for reconsideration from this preliminary order, any party may in writing support or take exceptions to any part of a preliminary order and may file briefs in support of the party's position on any issue in the proceeding with the Director. Otherwise, this preliminary order will become a final order of the agency.

REQUEST FOR HEARING

Unless a right to a hearing before the Department or the Water Resource Board is otherwise provided by statute, any person aggrieved by any final decision, determination, order or action of the Director of the Department and who has not previously been afforded an opportunity for a hearing on the matter may request a hearing pursuant to section 42-1701A(3), Idaho Code. A written petition contesting the action of the Director and requesting a hearing shall be filed within fifteen (15) days after receipt of the denial or conditional approval.

ORAL ARGUMENT

If the Director grants a petition to review the preliminary order, the Director shall allow all parties an opportunity to file briefs in support of or taking exceptions to the preliminary order and may schedule oral argument in the matter before issuing a final order. If oral arguments are to be heard, the Director will within a reasonable time period notify each party of the place, date and hour for the argument of the case. Unless the Director orders otherwise, all oral arguments will be heard in Boise, Idaho.

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

All exceptions, briefs, requests for oral argument and any other matters filed with the Director in connection with the preliminary order shall be served on all other parties to the proceedings in accordance with IDAPA Rules 37.01.01302 and 37.01.01303 (Rules of Procedure 302 and 303).

FINAL ORDER

The Director will issue a final order within fifty-six (56) days of receipt of the written briefs, oral argument or response to briefs, whichever is later, unless waived by the parties or for good cause shown. The Director may remand the matter for further evidentiary hearings if further factual development of the record is necessary before issuing a final order. The department will serve a copy of the final order on all parties of record.

Section 67-5246(5), Idaho Code, provides as follows:

Unless a different date is stated in a final order, the order is effective fourteen (14) days after its service date if a party has not filed a petition for reconsideration. If a party has filed a petition for reconsideration with the agency head, the final order becomes effective when:

- (a) The petition for reconsideration is disposed of; or
- (b) The petition is deemed denied because the agency head did not dispose of the petition within twenty-one (21) days.

APPEAL OF FINAL ORDER TO DISTRICT COURT

Pursuant to sections 67-5270 and 67-5272, Idaho Code, if this preliminary order becomes final, any party aggrieved by the final order or orders previously issued in this case may appeal the final order and all previously issued orders in this case to district court by filing a petition in the district court of the county in which:

- i. A hearing was held,
- ii. The final agency action was taken,
- iii. The party seeking review of the order resides, or
- iv. The real property or personal property that was the subject of the agency action is located.

The appeal must be filed within twenty-eight (28) days of this preliminary order becoming final. See section 67-5273, Idaho Code. The filing of an appeal to district court does not itself stay the effectiveness or enforcement of the order under appeal.

WATER CONSERVATION PLAN

This water conservation plan has been created and approved by the board of directors for Ross Point Water District (RPWD). RPWD encourages our users to utilize conservation methods to conserve water usage. This plan includes practices to ensure water is not wasted or used inappropriately.

- RPWD recommends that when building a new residence or replacing existing faucets, shower heads or toilets, that the homeowner/builder use or replace them with low flow fixtures.
- RPWD recommends adjusting sprinklers to water only grass areas and try to avoid impervious surfaces such as streets, driveways and walkways.
- RPWD recommends to water during the cool part of the day to minimize water lost to evaporation, recommendation not to water between the times of 12pm to 6pm, this avoids the midday hours when it's hot and sunny to prevent scalding of the turf and water evaporation. Also, try to avoid watering during rainy or windy conditions.
- RPWD encourages homeowners to understand your irrigation system. Locate the time clock and learn how to use it. Also, know where the shut off valve to your irrigation system is in case of an emergency. Be sure your irrigation system is designed correctly and provides "head to head" coverage and has no leaks in its system. If you do not have an irrigation clock timer it is suggested that all sprinkler systems, even just dragging a hose, should have a timer on the water so that consumers don't get busy and forget to turn off their water and don't over water an area.
- RPWD encourages consumers to understand how the weather affects your lawn. High temperatures and low humidity will cause your lawn to use more water and wind will increase water loss. RPWD suggest consumers to adjust your irrigation system seasonally according to the weather. Do not water during winter months or rainy weather.
- RPWD encourages that once a lawn is established that the consumers readjust their sprinkler timers to once every other day and follow the recommendations for watering times and not to over water your yard.

Ross Point Water District's current conservation practices will encourage consumers to follow the water conservation guidelines published by EPA in 1998 and our current guidelines. RPWD will charge the customers a fee that pays for the operation, maintenance and depreciation of our water system along with overage charges for excess water bills.

Re: Ross Point Water District Transfer Application

Introduction and Purpose

Ross Point Water District has applied for a water right transfer to add an additional municipal well to their existing water rights. The additional point of diversion is located within the Rathdrum Prairie Ground Water Management Area and the Rathdrum Prairie Comprehensive Aquifer Management Plan boundary (Figure 1).

The Rathdrum Prairie Groundwater Management Plan requires IDWR to evaluate water right transfers to ensure conservation of groundwater resources and local public interests are met. The purpose of this memo is to assess potential impacts of the new production well on existing water rights and on the Rathdrum Prairie Aquifer in general.

Potential Effects on the Rathdrum Prairie Aquifer

To assess the potential drawdown effects the new point of diversion may have on exiting water rights, the hydraulic properties of the aquifer in the area of the well must first be estimated. This can be accomplished by using the specific capacity of the well as observed during pumping. Driscoll (1986) provides the following equation to estimate transmissivity of an unconfined aquifer based on pumping rate and measured drawdown.

$$\frac{Q}{s} = \frac{T}{1500}$$

where,

Q = pumping rate (gallons/minute)

s = drawdown (feet)

T = transmissivity (gpd/ft)

Based on information available on the driller log for the Ross Point Water District well drilled in 2008, drawdown was 2-feet during a 480-minute pumping test at 3700-gpm. This equates to an estimated transmissivity of approximately 375,000 ft²/day. Storativity values for an unconfined aquifers can typically range from about 0.05 to 0.4 (Fetter, 2001). The USGS (2007) groundwater model suggests a storativity value of 0.1 is appropriate for this region of the aquifer.

Figures 2 and 3 show the estimated drawdown effects of the water right transfer based on the Theis (1935) equation using the estimated hydraulic properties of the aquifer. As shown in Figures 2 and 3, estimated drawdown on the aquifer will be minimal (less than a foot).

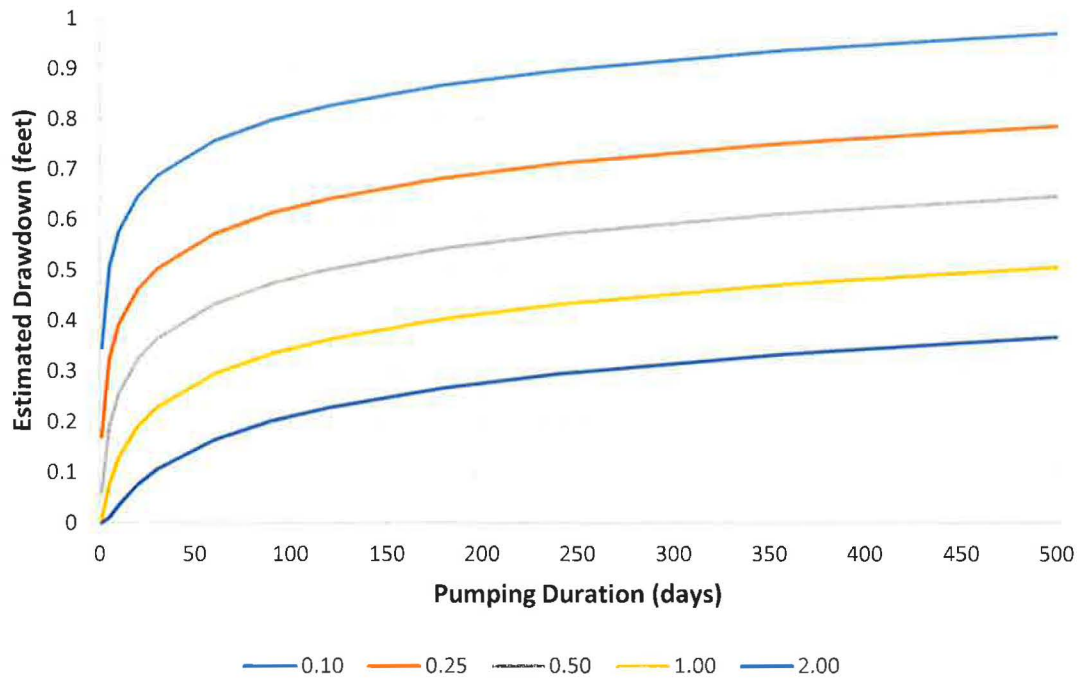

Figure 2. Estimated drawdown with time for select distances from the new point of diversion. Note: Pumping rate: 5.5 cfs; Transmissivity: 375,000 ft²/day; Storativity: 0.1.

Existing Water Rights and Wells

Numerous water rights and wells exist within a 1-mile radius of the additional Ross Point Water District well. The new well will be approximately 1,300-feet (0.25-miles) from the nearest water right.

Observed Long-Term Water Levels

Long-term water level records are available for the Rathdrum Prairie Aquifer. Hydrographs are provided in Figure 5. These hydrographs show a relationship to local climate fluctuations. The long-term record appears to be stable, with water levels generally higher since the mid-1990s.

Conclusions and Recommendations

Ross Point Water District is applying to add an additional Point of Diversion (municipal well) to their existing system and water rights. This is not the development of a new water right, therefore, no “new” groundwater will be allocated or diverted from the Rathdrum Prairie Aquifer.

Based on a review of water level data, existing water rights, and information provided in the water right transfer application, there appears to be sufficient groundwater to supply the well with minimal potential effects (less than 1-foot) on existing water rights and wells. The total annual volume allowed to be diverted is unchanged. The overall sustainability of the Rathdrum Prairie Aquifer should not be affected by the new Point of Diversion.

IDWR may want to require Ross Point Water District to report total monthly groundwater production volumes per the groundwater management plan and the comprehensive aquifer management plan. Additionally, Ross Point Water District will be required to submit a water conservation plan per the groundwater management plan.

Authority to File:

Dan Selden, District Manager, is authorized to sign documents on behalf of Ross Point Water District.

Water Right Validity:

All water rights are valid and have been partially decreed in the CRSBA.

Injury to Other Water Rights:

Injury is not anticipated due to the high transmissivity of the Rathdrum Prairie Aquifer.

Enlargement of Use:

None.

Local Public interest:

No negative issues anticipated.

Beneficial Use/Conservation of Water Resources:

Proposed use is recognized as a beneficial use of water.

Effect on Economy the Local Area:

New well will ensure a safe drinking water source for the future of the municipal provider.

Effect on Agricultural Base of the Local Area:

None anticipated.

Review of the application finds there is no clear inconsistency with criteria set forth in Section 42-222 Idaho Code preventing processing of this application.
