Re: Idaho Department of Fish and Game comments on Idaho Sand and Gravel Temporary Water Permit

I spoke by phone today with Jerome Hanson, Idaho Department of Fish and Game, about the Idaho Sand and Gravel application for a temporary water permit to load truckloads of water from the Comstock Ditch in Blaine County. He said that he foresaw no problems and gave his approval to the permit. He told me that he would check with other personnel in his office to see if they had any issues with the permit, and contact me if necessary.

Re: Watermaster comments on Idaho Sand and Gravel Temporary Water Permit

I spoke by phone this morning with Kevin Lakey, Watermaster of WD 37, about the Idaho Sand and Gravel application for a temporary water permit to fill truckloads of water for dust abatement from the Comstock Ditch between Ketchum and Hailey in Blaine county. He said that he foresaw no problems, as the ditch sinks downstream of the proposed POD, and gave his approval to the permit.
