#10 response: Please see attached e-mail correspondence with Craig Saxton@idwr.idahoidaho.gov for historical and record information. The Guy St. Louis well is currently the only source of water for our residence and property and we continually make $240/6 month water agreement payments to Guy St. Louis since the purchase of our property in 2017. Our parcel number is 012700010030, Lot 3, shared well WR#95-15764, same point of diversion.

Craig,
Thank you for your quick and detailed response. Here's some additional information. Based on County Building Department records, it appears a construction permit was pulled for my clients' residence on Aug. 22, 1995, but that permit was not "finalized" until 2000. The Guy St. Louis well is currently the only source of water for my clients' property and residence. The attached Water Use Agreement was recorded in July of 1995 for the shared use of the well and references my clients' Lot 3 of the Cedar Ridge subdivision. My clients have continued to make monthly water payments to Guy St. Louis since they purchased the property in 2017, so it appears the Water Use Agreement is still in effect.

I'll give you a call this afternoon to discuss this matter in more detail. What is a good time for you?
Thanks again,

Subject: RE: WR 95-15764

Good Morning Mr. Poorman,

I will be happy to try to help you with your questions. We can certainly discuss your questions over the phone, but I thought I would provide some information in e-mail.

I will start off by saying that even though the shape, or the boundary, of the place of use for water right 95-15764 includes your client's property (PIN 012700010030), it does not appear that any portion of the water right was intended to be applicable to your clients home. The boundary is not part of the decree and is used by IDWR as a tool to help identify the place of use (POU).

The options available for your client are dependent on when your client first started using water for the domestic use. Section 42-111(3) was added on March 20, 1995. The purpose of this section was to prevent staking of domestic uses in a manner that, as a group, would create a use that no longer fit within that domestic definition. What this means is that after March 20, 1995, the first person to develop a domestic use from a well would fall under the domestic exemption. But any subsequent user would need to file an application for permit. The domestic exemption no longer applied (Note: If your client has his/her own pump in the well, then that changes the situation.)

In your e-mail you mentioned that your client started using water in 1995. If this is the case, then we will want to try to narrow down when the home was hooked up to the well. However, I looked at the Kootenai County Parcel information for your clients property and it indicates that the home was built in 1997.

Option 1:

Link to the Kootenai County Parcel information for:

PIN #012700010030

	DETGAR	Residential Detached Garage	R01	03	2000
	LEANTO	Lean-to	R01	04	2000

If the build date of 1997 is accurate, then really the best option is to file an Application for Permit: This is a process to establish a water right outside of the adjudication. The end result would be a licensed water right. Your client would have the priority date matching the date the application was filed, but they would not have the 2,500 gallon per day limit that the other rights fall under.

They could pursue filing a late adjudication claim, but I don't know how IDWR could recommend it without limiting its use to the 2,500 gpd with 95-15764. That would be 4 homes limited to 2500 gpd. Which in reality, is still probably plenty of water for most cases.

Anyway, I will try to drop you a line, but feel free to call me if you have questions.

Respectfully,

Craig L. Saxton

Subject: WR 95-15764

Craig,

I am representing Katherine Campbell and Kent Durand, the owners of the Lot 3, Block 1 in the Cedar Ridge subdivision, Kootenai County.

My clients purchased their property in November of 2017. Their home is connected to the well owned by Guy St. Louis who owns the adjacent parcel, Lot 4, Block 1, Cedar Ridge. In researching their property, I located your email to Mr. St. Louis (attached) regarding Water Right No. 95-15764. Based on the recommendation map, it appears my clients property is within the place of use for the water right, but their parcel is not listed as a place of use in the recommendation report. I have marked my clients home and parcel on the attached recommendation map. According to County records, my clients' residence was built in 1995 by David and Erin Kilgore and I understand was connected to the St. Louis well at that time. I believe Erin Kilgore is the sister of Guy St. Louis.

Please give me a call or direct me to the appropriate person who can answer some questions regarding this situation. Thank you.

Craig,

Thank you for your quick and detailed response. Here's some additional information. Based on County Building Department records, it appears a construction permit was pulled for my clients' residence on Aug. 22, 1995, but that permit was not "finalized" until 2000. The Guy St. Louis well is currently the only source of water for my clients' property and residence. The attached Water Use Agreement was recorded in July of 1995 for the shared use of the well and references my clients' Lot 3 of the Cedar Ridge subdivision. My clients have continued to make monthly water payments to Guy St. Louis since they purchased the property in 2017, so it appears the Water Use Agreement is still in effect.

I'll give you a call this afternoon to discuss this matter in more detail. What is a good time for you?
Thanks again,

Subject: RE: WR 95-15764

Good Morning Mr. Poorman,

I will be happy to try to help you with your questions. We can certainly discuss your questions over the phone, but I thought I would provide some information in e-mail.

I will start off by saying that even though the shape, or the boundary, of the place of use for water right 95-15764 includes your client's property (PIN 012700010030), it does not appear that any portion of the water right was intended to be applicable to your clients home. The boundary is not part of the decree and is used by IDWR as a tool to help identify the place of use (POU).

The options available for your client are dependent on when your client first started using water for the domestic use. Section 42-111(3) was added on March 20, 1995. The purpose of this section was to prevent staking of domestic uses in a manner that, as a group, would create a use that no longer fit within that domestic definition. What this means is that after March 20, 1995, the first person to develop a domestic use from a well would fall under the domestic exemption. But any subsequent user would need to file an application for permit. The domestic exemption no longer applied (Note: If your client has his/her own pump in the well, then that changes the situation.)

In your e-mail you mentioned that your client started using water in 1995. If this is the case, then we will want to try to narrow down when the home was hooked up to the well. However, I looked at the Kootenai County Parcel information for your clients property and it indicates that the home was built in 1997.

Option 1:

Link to the Kootenai County Parcel information for:

PIN #012700010030

	DETGAR	Residential Detached Garage	R01	03	2000
	LEANTO	Lean-to	R01	04	2000

If the build date of 1997 is accurate, then really the best option is to file an Application for Permit: This is a process to establish a water right outside of the adjudication. The end result would be a licensed water right. Your client would have the priority date matching the date the application was filed, but they would not have the 2,500 gallon per day limit that the other rights fall under.

They could pursue filing a late adjudication claim, but I don't know how IDWR could recommend it without limiting its use to the 2,500 gpd with 95-15764. That would be 4 homes limited to 2500 gpd. Which in reality, is still probably plenty of water for most cases.

Anyway, I will try to drop you a line, but feel free to call me if you have questions.

Respectfully,

Craig L. Saxton

Subject: WR 95-15764

Craig,

I am representing Katherine Campbell and Kent Durand, the owners of the Lot 3, Block 1 in the Cedar Ridge subdivision, Kootenai County.

My clients purchased their property in November of 2017. Their home is connected to the well owned by Guy St. Louis who owns the adjacent parcel, Lot 4, Block 1, Cedar Ridge. In researching their property, I located your email to Mr. St. Louis (attached) regarding Water Right No. 95-15764. Based on the recommendation map, it appears my clients property is within the place of use for the water right, but their parcel is not listed as a place of use in the recommendation report. I have marked my clients home and parcel on the attached recommendation map. According to County records, my clients' residence was built in 1995 by David and Erin Kilgore and I understand was connected to the St. Louis well at that time. I believe Erin Kilgore is the sister of Guy St. Louis.

Please give me a call or direct me to the appropriate person who can answer some questions regarding this situation. Thank you.
