Re: Application for Transfer No. 82961

Dear Applicant:

The Idaho Department of Water Resources (IDWR) is currently reviewing the above referenced application for transfer to change a water right(s). After initial review of the application, IDWR sent you a letter on November 11, 2019 regarding concerns over validity of the right. On December 16, 2019 you submitted a defense to forfeiture stating that the land has been neglected for some time and access to the new Point of Diversion (POD) is needed to resume full use of the right. I am contacting you today to notify you that the transfer application would likely be denied if processed as filed due to forfeiture concerns.

Forfeiture is a concern because using remote sensing technologies, the Department has concluded that beneficial use of the right being transferred have not occurred for a period of 5 or more consecutive years. If the right cannot be put to beneficial use from its original POD's, changing the point of diversion to a more available source poses a risk of enlargement of the right. Enlargement will occur if the total diversion rate, volume, or extent of beneficial use exceeds the amounts or beneficial use authorized under the water right prior to the proposed transfer. This action includes changing a point of diversion to a new location where the water available is greater or more reliable.

You may wish to withdraw your application and resume the use at the original POD in order to avoid potential forfeiture of the right. IDWR will hold further processing of your application to allow a withdrawal or any other information you may wish to submit in support of your existing proposal.

Please submit the withdrawal form or additional information towards defense for application processing to continue. You may seek additional time to provide the information. Your written must be received within the next thirty (30) days.

Without a timely reply, IDWR will issue a preliminary order to deny the application. The application fee will not be refunded for a denied application. A denied application cannot generally be re-filed for substantially the same proposal.

IDWR forms and other information are available on the Internet at www.idwr.idaho.gov. Please contact me at 208-334-2190 if you have any questions. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Tyler Smith

RE: Application for Transfer No. 82961

Dear Mr Parker,

Re the application referenced above, we purchased the property with appurtenant water rights, and began to resume irrigation shortly afterward.

So Far, we have irrigated 13 of the 20 acres. We are unable to gain access to the points of diversion listed on the water right, as they are on private land which is not owned by the original water right owner. The irrigation we have achieved so far is developed from the point of diversion proposed on the transfer application. We plan to resume full use as outlined in the transfer application as soon as the 2020 irrigation season.

Thank you for your assistance and consideration.

Dear Applicants,

The Idaho Dept. of Water Resources (IDWR) is currently evaluating the application for transfer (no 82961) you submitted on Jan 16, 2019. As part of the evaluation IDWR must determine if the right to be changed is valid (i.e. if water has been used for the purposes outlined on the water right during the previous consecutive 5-year period).

You propose to change the point of diversion for two water rights (63-34687 and 63-34688) which were split from the parent right 63-32330 as the result of an ownership change form you submitted. The two rights combined authorize the irrigation of twenty acres. Aerial imagery from the previous five years shows that you have irrigated a total of roughly thirteen acres. This means that seven acres of irrigation are at risk of forfeiture.

For application processing to continue, you must provide a written description of how you have attempted to resume irrigation use under rights 63-34687 and 63-34688. Please submit your written reply within thirty (30) days of the date of this letter. The application will be voided without a timely written reply.

Please let me know if you have any questions. I look forward to hearing from you. Thank you for your time and your attention to these matters.

Sincerely,

RE: Water right permit no. 63-34121

Dear Mr. Carter,

Thank you for your help June 26, 2018 with the beneficial use field examination for your water right permit (referenced above). After comparing your developed use to the permit, it appears that some of the acres of irrigation were developed in a quarter-quarter that was not described on the permit. The final water right license confirms the extent that water use has been established in compliance with the permit.

Prior to receiving a water right license, you must amend the permit to reflect the irrigation as developed. Enclosed is an Application for Amendment form. It should depict the elements of your water right as they will appear on the final license when issued. Please review the forms carefully. If you agree with the information, please sign and return the forms with the $100 filing fee within fourteen (14) days. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Respectfully,

Cody Parker
