Thank you for the clarification Eric.

Domestic wells are permitted through a $75 permit and irrigation wells are permitted through a $200 permit. Well D0068996 and Well D0068997 were permitted as domestic wells under a $75 filing fee. A well upgrade fee of $175 will need to be paid for each well because irrigation is being sought from the wells.

Rachel:

I have spoken with Tom Sellin this morning and in our conversation Mr. Sellin described the two wells that you mentioned in yesterday's email. I am advised that both of these wells were established primarily to determine the availability of water as a precondition to his purchase of the property which is the subject of the applications filed this spring.

It is the applicant's intention that on Lot 1 and Lot 6, the existing wells be utilized as the actual point of diversion for the permits for the lots on which the wells are located – and that there will not be a second well on either of those lots.

Essentially, as to those two lots, the applications filed this spring would constitute a request to amend the existing permit to permit diversion and application of water as per the pending 2017 applications.

Please let me know if you have any further questions.

Subject: Application for Permit No's 63-34386 & 63-34391

Dear Applicant,

The purpose of the email is to request clarification regarding the above referenced applications.

The applications you submitted propose to construct wells for irrigation, stock, and domestic purposes. There are two existing domestic wells located within your proposed project area; Lot 1 (Well D0068997) and Lot 6 (Well D0068996). Are these wells accounted for as a point of diversion on the applications or are these wells separate from the applications?
