Re: Compliance with conditions of permit

On April 3, 2017, IDWR received a Statement of Completion and several attachments for the above water right. I was asked to review the submittals for compliance with conditions of the permit.

The attachments were copies of required BLM approvals to access public lands under their jurisdiction and indicated that the permit holder was compliant with condition 6 of the permit.

However, condition 11 of the permit required submittal of a report by Feb 1 of each year. The report was to describe the quantities of water which were diverted for recharge in the previous year. At the time that the proof statement was received, IDWR had not received the required report for 2016.

On April 18, 2017, I contacted the permit holder's office by phone and explained that the permit had also required a data submittal and that without it, the Reno Ditch Company was not in compliance with the conditions of the permit.

On May 2, 2017, I received an email from Miriah Elliott, (counsel for Sorenson Engineering) which contained a table of the daily and the cumulative ac-ft data for both of the permitted recharge sites. I briefly reviewed the data, found it sufficient for compliance with condition 11 of the permit and I am recommending that the proof be processed.
