RE: Amendment of Permit 11-7451

Dear Mr. McMillan:

It was good talking with you earlier this week. You answered all of my questions about the Stoker water right. I'm now prepared to issue a final license for water right 11-7451. As we discussed on the phone, the point of diversion was described in the wrong Quarter-Quarter on the permit. The permit listed the point of diversion in the SWNE of Section 27. The spring is visible in aerial photography and is actually located in the SENW of Section 27. It's unclear how the application and permit point of diversion ended up in the wrong QQ.

Before a license can be issued for water right 11-7451, the permit must be amended to correct the point of diversion to match the actual development. This is accomplished by submitting an "Application for Amendment (For Licensing Purposes)".

Enclosed are the Application for Amendment, a map showing the proposed water right, and a copy of the in-office field exam completed for the license. If the information on the amendment is correct, please sign the amendment and return the signature page to our office with the appropriate filing fee ($100). I've also included an ownership change. If you would like to update the ownership of the water right at this time (so the license is issued in your name), please complete the form and send me a copy of the deed for the property from Stoker and any other deeds occurring thereafter. The filing fee for an ownership change is $25. Both fees can be paid in a single check to "IDWR".

Once the application for amendment is received, I will complete the water right process and issue a water right license. Please feel free to call if you have any questions about the licensing process.

Sincerely,

James Cefalo
