Gina,

Per your request, I've attached a copy of the partial decree confirming the elements of the Colson Creek water right you owned from 2005 until 2016. IDWR does not issue a new certificate each time the ownership of a water right is changed. IDWR updates the computer database with the new ownership information and sends an acknowledgment letter to the new owner. Along with the acknowledgment letter, IDWR normally sends the new owner a computer-generated printout showing the elements of the water right with the new owner's name. When IDWR acknowledged the ownership change from you to Jane C. Redden, IDWR may have inadvertently failed to enclose the printout. To rectify that oversight, I have also attached a printout showing Jane C. Redden as the current water right owner.

Anyone can access the entire water right record on IDWR's website by using the Water Right Research tool at <https://idwr.idaho.gov/apps/ExtSearch/WRAJSearch/WRADJSearch.aspx>. To search by the water right number, enter 75 as the "Basin Number" and 7448 as the "Sequence Number."

Please call or email if you have additional questions.

Sincerely,

Shelley Keen
