Subject: Permit No. 22-13979 Lapse Notice

Darla,

I received the notice returning the proof of beneficial use for permit No. 22-13979 stating the proof was deficient of information. Prior to submitting this Proof of Beneficial Use, we submitted a field examination to the Eastern office for the City of Driggs, relative to permit no. 22-13589 (another permit for the City). The field examination included information on the entire water supply system, which pertains to permit no. 22-13979 also. Before submitting the proof, I spoke with Blake Jordan, who is familiar with both of these permits and currently has the field examination for permit no. 22-13589 for review. In our discussion, we agreed that the field examination also applies to permit no. 22-13979 and no additional field examination or documentation would be necessary. We submitted the Proof of Beneficial Use, and I believe there was a miscommunication that led to the form being sent to the State office, rather than remaining at Eastern to be paired with permit no. 22-13589 and its field examination.

We have discussed the situation with the Eastern Office. We will resubmit the original form and fee to the Eastern Office. We apologize for the confusion and request that you please rescind the lapse notice as we understood that we were in compliance when we submitted the Proof of Beneficial Use.

Thank you,

Kristin Moore
