Dear Pamela Skaggs:

I wish to comment on the "local public interest" issues in reference to my application to appropriate water, and to clarify as much as I can, any other information which may not be inclusive in my application:

- 1.) The spring water I am wishing to file on, to my knowledge, does not contribute to flows of the Lemhi River or Agency Creek. It simply sinks back into the ground. This should not deplete flow-limited stream reaches.
- 2.) During low water years, when the head gate of L-32 is closed, there is enough spring water flowing down through the ditch, to completely or partially sprinkler irrigate my 33.5 acres. The volume of water varies from year to year, since I have been using this water to my benefit. In most years, there has been enough flow to alternately run both my pivot and wheel line.
- 3.) I changed from flood irrigation to sprinkler irrigation on my 33.5 acres in 1997. Considering the other water users on L-32 are currently flood irrigating, there isn't enough water from the spring to satisfy both flood irrigation users and my sprinkler irrigation system, when the head gate on L-32 is closed. This is the reason I am applying for this water right.

I hope this clarifies any questions you may have.

MEMORANDUM

Date: October 13, 2016
To: Water Right File 74-16059
From: Michele Edl
Re: Application for Permit Review

Applicant

According to available Lemhi County taxlot information, the POU is property owned by Jerel G Hagen and Mr. Hagen signed the application.

The POD and a portion of the pipeline which conveys water from the L-32 ditch to the POU are located on property owned by William E. Loudy. The application states that an easement agreement exists between Mr. Loudy and the applicant.

The applicant responded to IDWR's local public interest letter by a letter which was received Oct 11, 2016.

Source & POD

The NHD Canal flowlines layer shows the L-32 ditch does not enter the applicant's property but instead runs past the SE corner. However, water conveyed through the L-32 does enter the applicant's property through a bubbler box and pipeline in the NESWNE of section 29 Twp. According to supplemental information provided in a letter dated September 7, 2016, the L-32 ditch runs through an area of springs in the vicinity of the applicant's bubble box, and there it accumulates the spring water which is the water source for this application.

The spring is within a Wild and Scenic area and subject to those processing steps. I created the POD shape based on the shape shown on the application map.

Water Use

The application proposes use of spring water carried in L-32 for supplemental irrigation of 33.5 acres of an existing field. The applicant requested the standard rate for irrigation 0.02 cfs/acre.

POU

The place-of-use totals 33.5 acres and is already covered by existing WRs. I created the POU shape based on the taxlot and application layers.

POU/POD overlap analysis

The applicant has existing WR #s 74-403B, 74-401B and 74-402B which are sourced from the Lemhi River.

The applicant has use of an existing bubble box in the NESWNE of section 29 which rediverts water from the L-32 ditch to his property.

Conditions

The proposed POU and POD are currently located within water district 74. The L-32 ditch may also convey Agency Creek water. The permit will be conditioned with measuring device and watermaster control notifications.

RE: Application to Appropriate Water in the Upper Salmon River Basin 74-16059

Dear Water Right Applicant:

The Department of Water Resources' (IDWR) records show you filed an application to establish a new use of water in the upper Salmon River basin. Idaho Code § 42-203A(5) requires IDWR to determine whether each water right application satisfies all the criteria necessary for appropriating water in Idaho. One statutory criterion requires IDWR to determine the local public interest relative to the proposed water use. Idaho Code § 42-202B(3) defines the local public interest as "the interests that the people in the area directly affected by a proposed water use have in the effects of such use on the public water resource." The local public interest has many facets, including the effects of a proposed water use on aquatic habitat for fish and wildlife resources.

The upper Salmon River basin is home to stocks of chinook salmon, sockeye salmon, steelhead trout, and bull trout, all of which are listed as threatened or endangered under the Endangered Species Act (ESA). Since the early 1990s, local water users, conservation districts, and federal and state agencies have cooperated to implement conservation measures intended to protect and restore habitat for ESA-listed species in the upper Salmon River watershed. For example, at the request of local water users the Idaho Legislature directed the Idaho Water Resource Board (IWRB) to establish a minimum stream flow in the lower Lemhi River for fish passage. The minimum stream flow is maintained through a water supply bank and temporary or permanent acquisition of additional water supplies by willing buyers from willing sellers.

Pursuant to the Snake River Water Rights Agreement of 2004, Idaho has been developing a long term conservation plan for the benefit of ESA-listed species in the Lemhi River basin. Improving conditions in flow-limited river reaches and streams is a fundamental component of the Lemhi plan. In addition to IDWR, numerous state agencies, including the Office of Species Conservation, Idaho Department of Fish and Game, Idaho Department of Environmental Quality, Idaho Soil and Water Conservation Commission, and Idaho Department of Lands, have committed and continue to commit significant resources toward this objective under the following programs:

- Columbia Basin Water Transactions Program
- National Marine Fisheries Service Pacific Coastal Salmon Recovery Fund
- U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service Aquatic Species Conservation Fund
- Salmon and Clearwater River Basins Habitat Fund
- 2008 Columbia Basin Fish Accords

Letter to Upper Salmon River Basin Water Right Applicants

A myriad of habitat restoration projects are being constructed/implemented in other parts of the upper Salmon River basin. These projects have been coordinated with the local communities and water users through the Upper Salmon River Basin Watershed Program and predecessor programs, including the model watersheds. Furthermore, the Snake River Water Rights Agreement of 2004 contemplates the development of additional conservation plans for other upper Salmon River basin watersheds. Accordingly, the draft Comprehensive State Water Plan under revision by the IWRB contains policies for the Salmon River basin that focus on the protection and restoration of instream habitat for ESA-listed species through voluntary participation in conservation programs.

Because of the ESA-listed species recovery efforts in the upper Salmon River basin, IDWR must determine on a case-by-case basis whether it is in the local public interest to authorize proposed water uses that would further deplete flow-limited stream reaches.

Pursuant to Rule 40.04.c of the Water Appropriation Rules (IDAPA 37.03.08.040.04.c), the applicant has the ultimate burden of persuasion regarding the items that must be evaluated in connection with each water right application. Before proceeding further with your application, IDWR requests you submit additional information about how your proposal invokes any local public interest concerns for ESA species recovery. Within 30 days, please submit any additional information you believe IDWR may need to evaluate and determine the local public interest in the water you propose to divert and use. If IDWR has not received a response from you within 30 days, IDWR will assume you have no comment regarding the local public interest, and processing of your application will resume with the information currently on file. Processing will include public notice and the potential for formal protests by other interested parties. Applications that are not in the local public interest will be denied. If you wish to withdraw your application before it is processed, please notify IDWR in writing.

If you have any questions, please call me at 208-287-4951, or email me at pam.skaggs@idwr.idaho.gov.

Sincerely,

you

Dear Jean Hersley:

In response to your request that I explain how the spring water will be used to benefit my 33.5 acres: Considering my water right has a 1911 "priority date", L-32 in some years gets shut-off due to low water flow in the Lemhi River. In most years when L-32 water is shut off, the spring I am filing on feeds enough water into L-32 (which flows through my bubble box) in that I can irrigate my field through gravity flow.

I hope this clarifies my intentions for filing on this spring.

Sincerely,

RE: Application for Permit

Dear Applicant(s):

The Department of Water Resources has received your water right application. Preliminary review of the application indicates that it is incomplete and cannot be accepted for processing. We are returning your application to allow you to complete the necessary items. The required information is described below.

- #13. The Time required for beneficial use of water was not provided correctly. The Department requires this to be from 1 to 5 years.
- # 3. The Source/Tributary was not provided correctly. What is the tributary of the springs that flow into L-32. Is it 'sinks' or the 1st named source, Agency Creek?
- #4 and #9. The point of diversion and place of use are in the incorrect QQ's. I have enclosed a map with your property outlined in yellow. Mark on the map where the place of use and point of diversion are located and correct both on your application. Initial and date any corrections you make.

The land you are wanting to irrigate with this new application already has the full component of water from 2 (two) separate sources. Please provide the Department with an explanation of how will this spring water be used to benefit the irrigation of these 33.5 acres.

Please respond within 15 days. If the Department does not hear from you within this time, a refund will be requested and the application will not be processed.

Please feel free to contact this office if you have any questions.

Sincerely,
