Subject: Electrical Line Relocation

Background: Approximately 10 years ago, an "electrician" broke the main electrical line to the pump house. An electrical contractor (unknown) then laid a new line to the pump house (from the SW corner of Daugherty's property). However, instead of following the road easement, they ran the line across Ed Jenkins' lot.

Ed recently sold the property. In order to meet county codes ^{avoid} plus any future (possible) breaking of the line by the new owner, a new line following the road easement and pump house easement was necessary.

Action: A new electrical line was laid on Mar. 14 & 15.

1. Bob Allen Excavation dug the trench for the new line
2. (electrician) laid the new cable line.

Note: The new line is located on the south side of the main access road & then south to the pump house (within the pump house easement).

Payment: At a community meeting held March 14, it was decided to split the costs, with the present owners paying 70% and Ed Jenkins paying 30%. Note: Ed is not a full participant as he pays only $10 per month whereas the 7 other homeowners pay $50 per month to cover road maintenance, electrical charges and misc repairs.

Concern: A majority of the neighborhood has been concerned for many years about the condition of the 8000 gallon neighborhood tank used for supplying domestic and irrigation water. Note: Approximately 6 years ago, a drain plug rusted ~~ed~~ through and was replaced by a new cap (welded into the tank). The main concern was that portions of the steel tank were also rusting through. The tank is made of $\frac{1}{4}$ " thick steel.

Results: On June 1, 2013, an inspector tested the tank and found it to be sound with minimal rusting.
