Pam,

I (and all of our Water Rights staff) are happy to help when we can, but we do have many other assignments and responsibilities each day. Your requests have not been unreasonable, but because we make all of our records available to the public via the internet or here in the office, that is the reason we charge for lengthy research. I wanted you and Ms. Tindall to be informed of how to search the public record for your own needs—it is a very valuable and powerful tool for you.

Please feel free to call as you need to. Each day, there is one person from our staff who will put aside their assignments, and become devoted to taking water right questions. All of our staff are very knowledgeable and will be able to help as needed. My day to answer public inquiries is today this week, so I have searched for one of the documents I believe you were looking for.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Hi Ashley..I do owe you a BIG apology for involving you so much more in depth than you are hired to have to handle. I am thankful I did get to talk to you that day back in July..and I remember you did say.."you were the one assigned to handle questions that day." You have, as I have said before, been one who has gone over and above her "call to duty". Your kindness has been appreciated. With requests from others involved for information, I assumed I could go to "my" Ashley :-) and find the answers...that was pretty rude of me to expect that of you. I really am sorry. This is quite a "different" situation as you know. Your help has been great in all aspects. May be we can leave you alone until this thing is settled. :-) (Or whoever is the one we will be dealing with.) I feel confident in that the help you gave me will be beneficial in the end. Thank you so much. SINCERELY....Pam Warthen

Hi Ashley...hate to bother you but I can't seem to get a copy of your attachment to go through to Brian, my attorney..Not sure what I am doing wrong with my limited tech ability. Would you please send him a copy of what you sent to me. The PDF of the ownership change. Thanks...glad it is your day to help. Pam

Hi Ashley...Thank you so much for your help, information, and willingness to help. Especially for the information you attached. I will send this on to my attorney to review. He has been, as you, very willing to help. Thanks...I guess I just feel confident with you. :-) Have a good day helping others. :-) Pam
