MEMORANDUM

RE: Extension of Time to Avoid Forfeiture Review and Recommendations

SUMMARY

Water rights were decreed in the SRBA on 9/24/2010. The applicant filed Extensions of Time applications on 9/25/2015 to protect part of the rights, while continuing to use the balance of the rights on lands that the irrigation systems have been upgraded. Applicant states that the drought and financial limitations in upgrading the rest of the system prevents full use.

During review it was found that the applicant is irrigating on acres not covered under their water rights, but the acres are within the described PLS tracts on the rights. The applicant has been informed, but will need to be reminded, that a Transfer of Water Right application will be required to achieve his long term goal of upgrading the delivery system as proposed and shown on the maps in the files.

Overlapping the two rights are some shares in Twin Lakes Irrigation Company that provide a brief and variable quantity of water and a small ground water right 37-2541 for 10 acres and an 8/6/1953 priority date. These two rights will continue to be used the shares as available and the small ground water right to its full extent. The three private rights have a combined use limit condition of 445 acres.

ANALYSIS

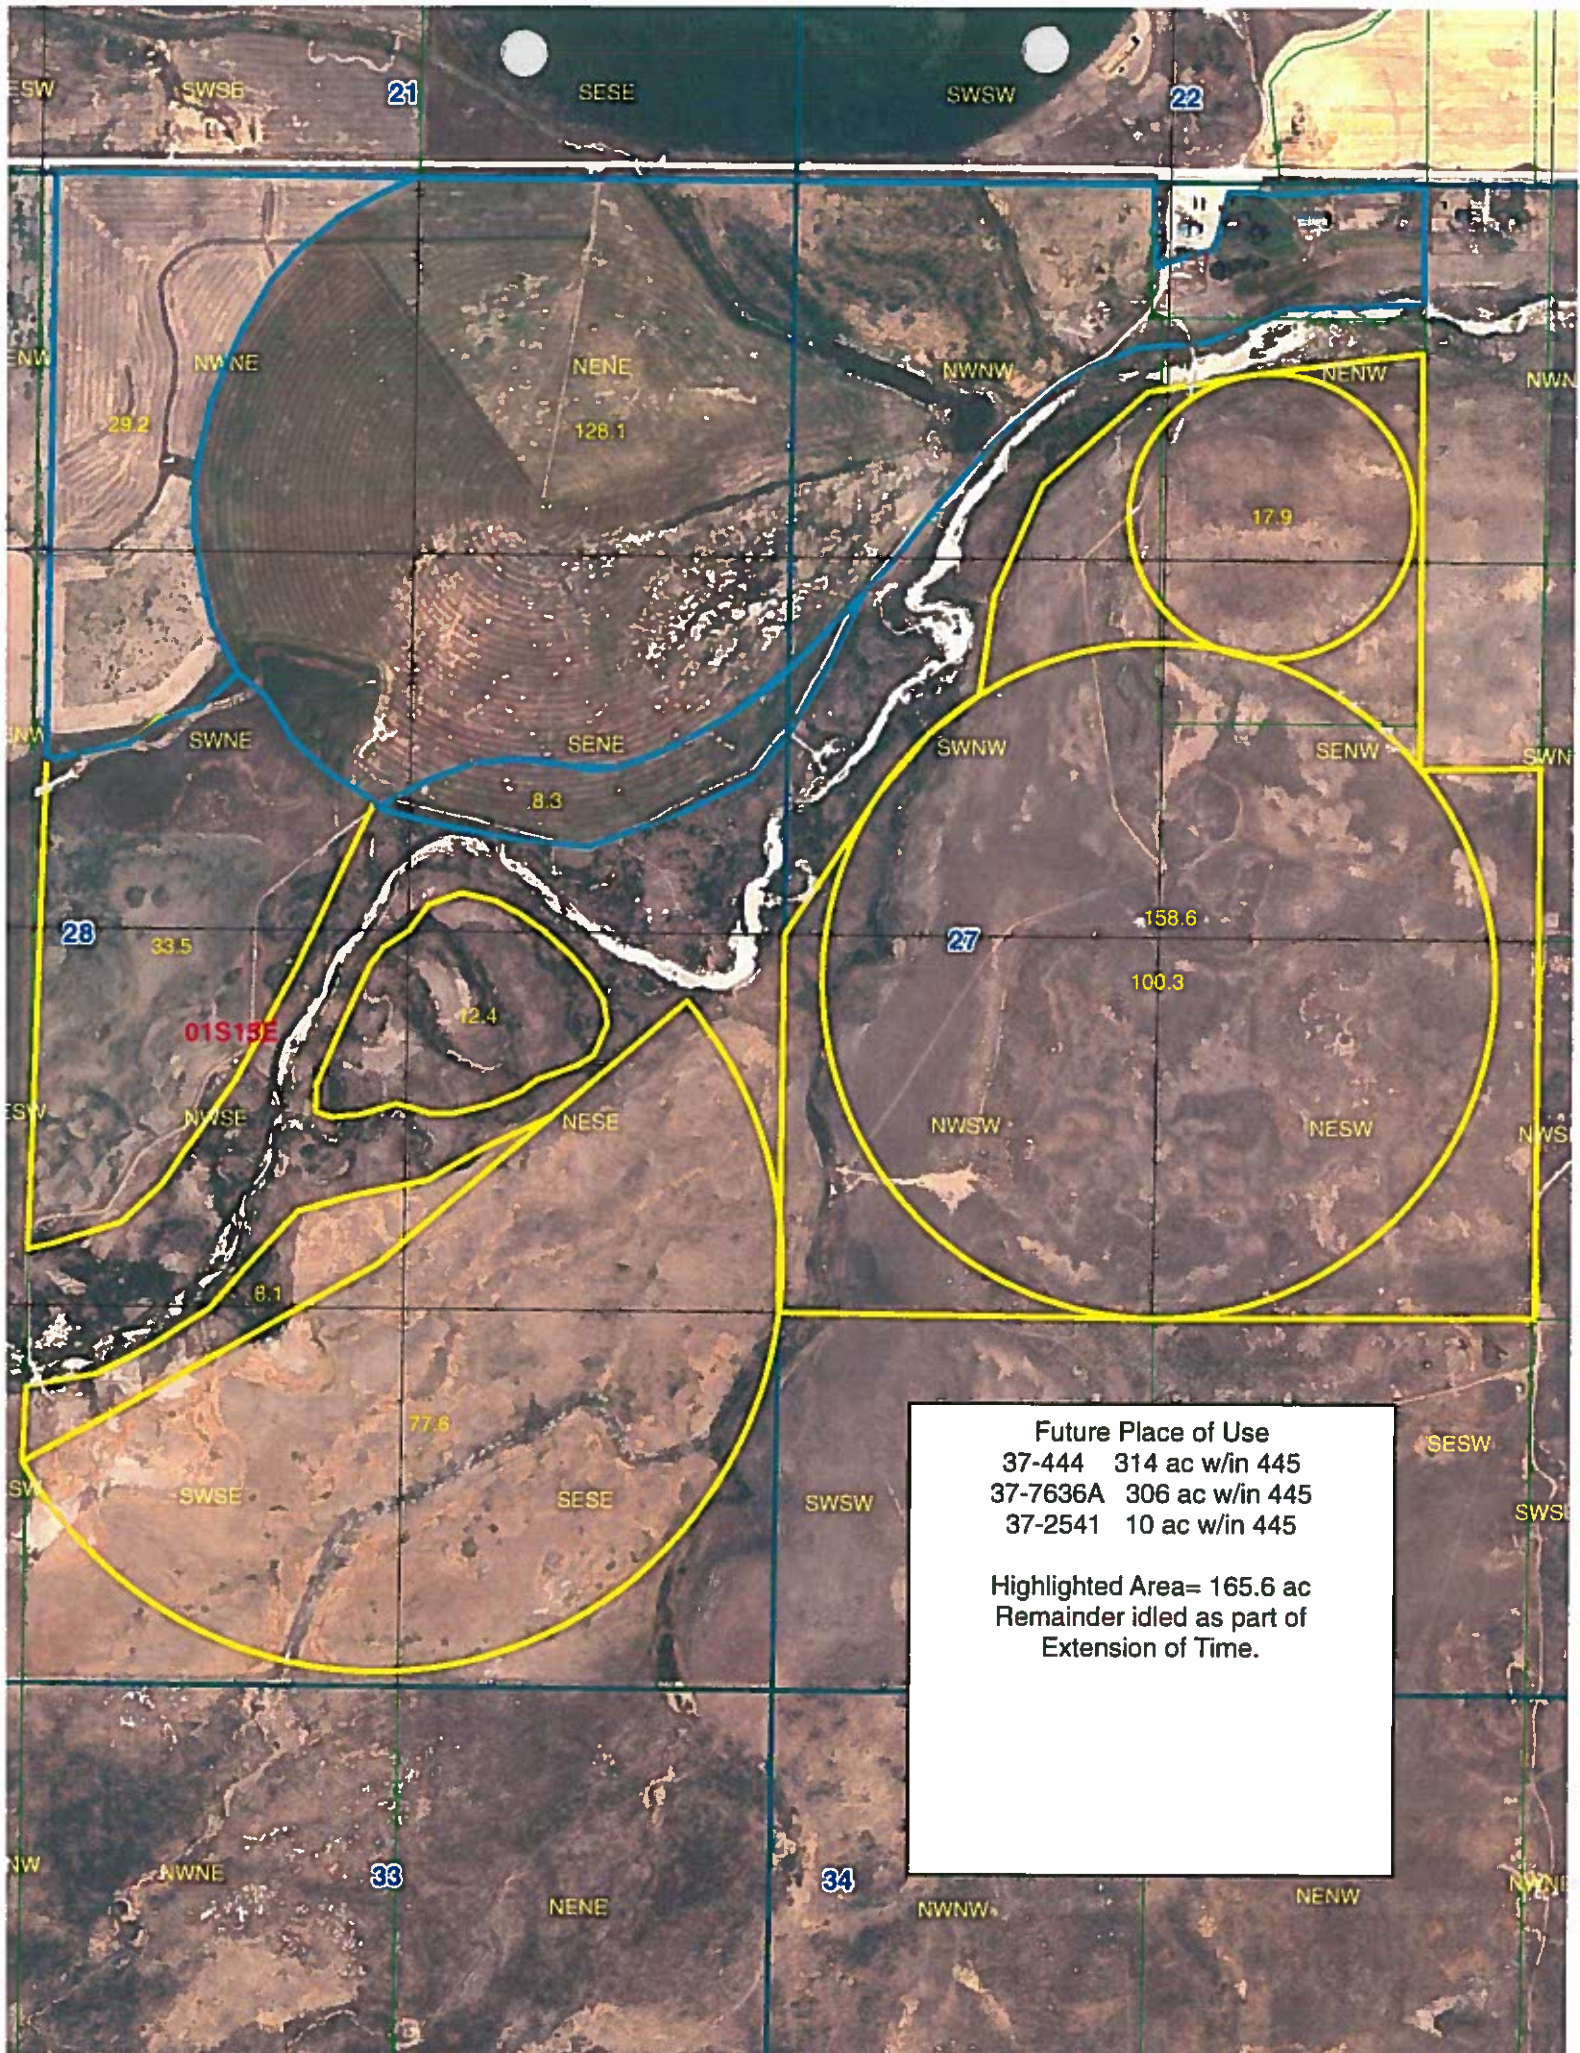

The area that will continue to be irrigated is located north of Camas Creek and contains 165.6 acres. Because the small well water right will be used the area that will continue to be irrigated under the two rights contained in the Extensions will be 155.6 acres.

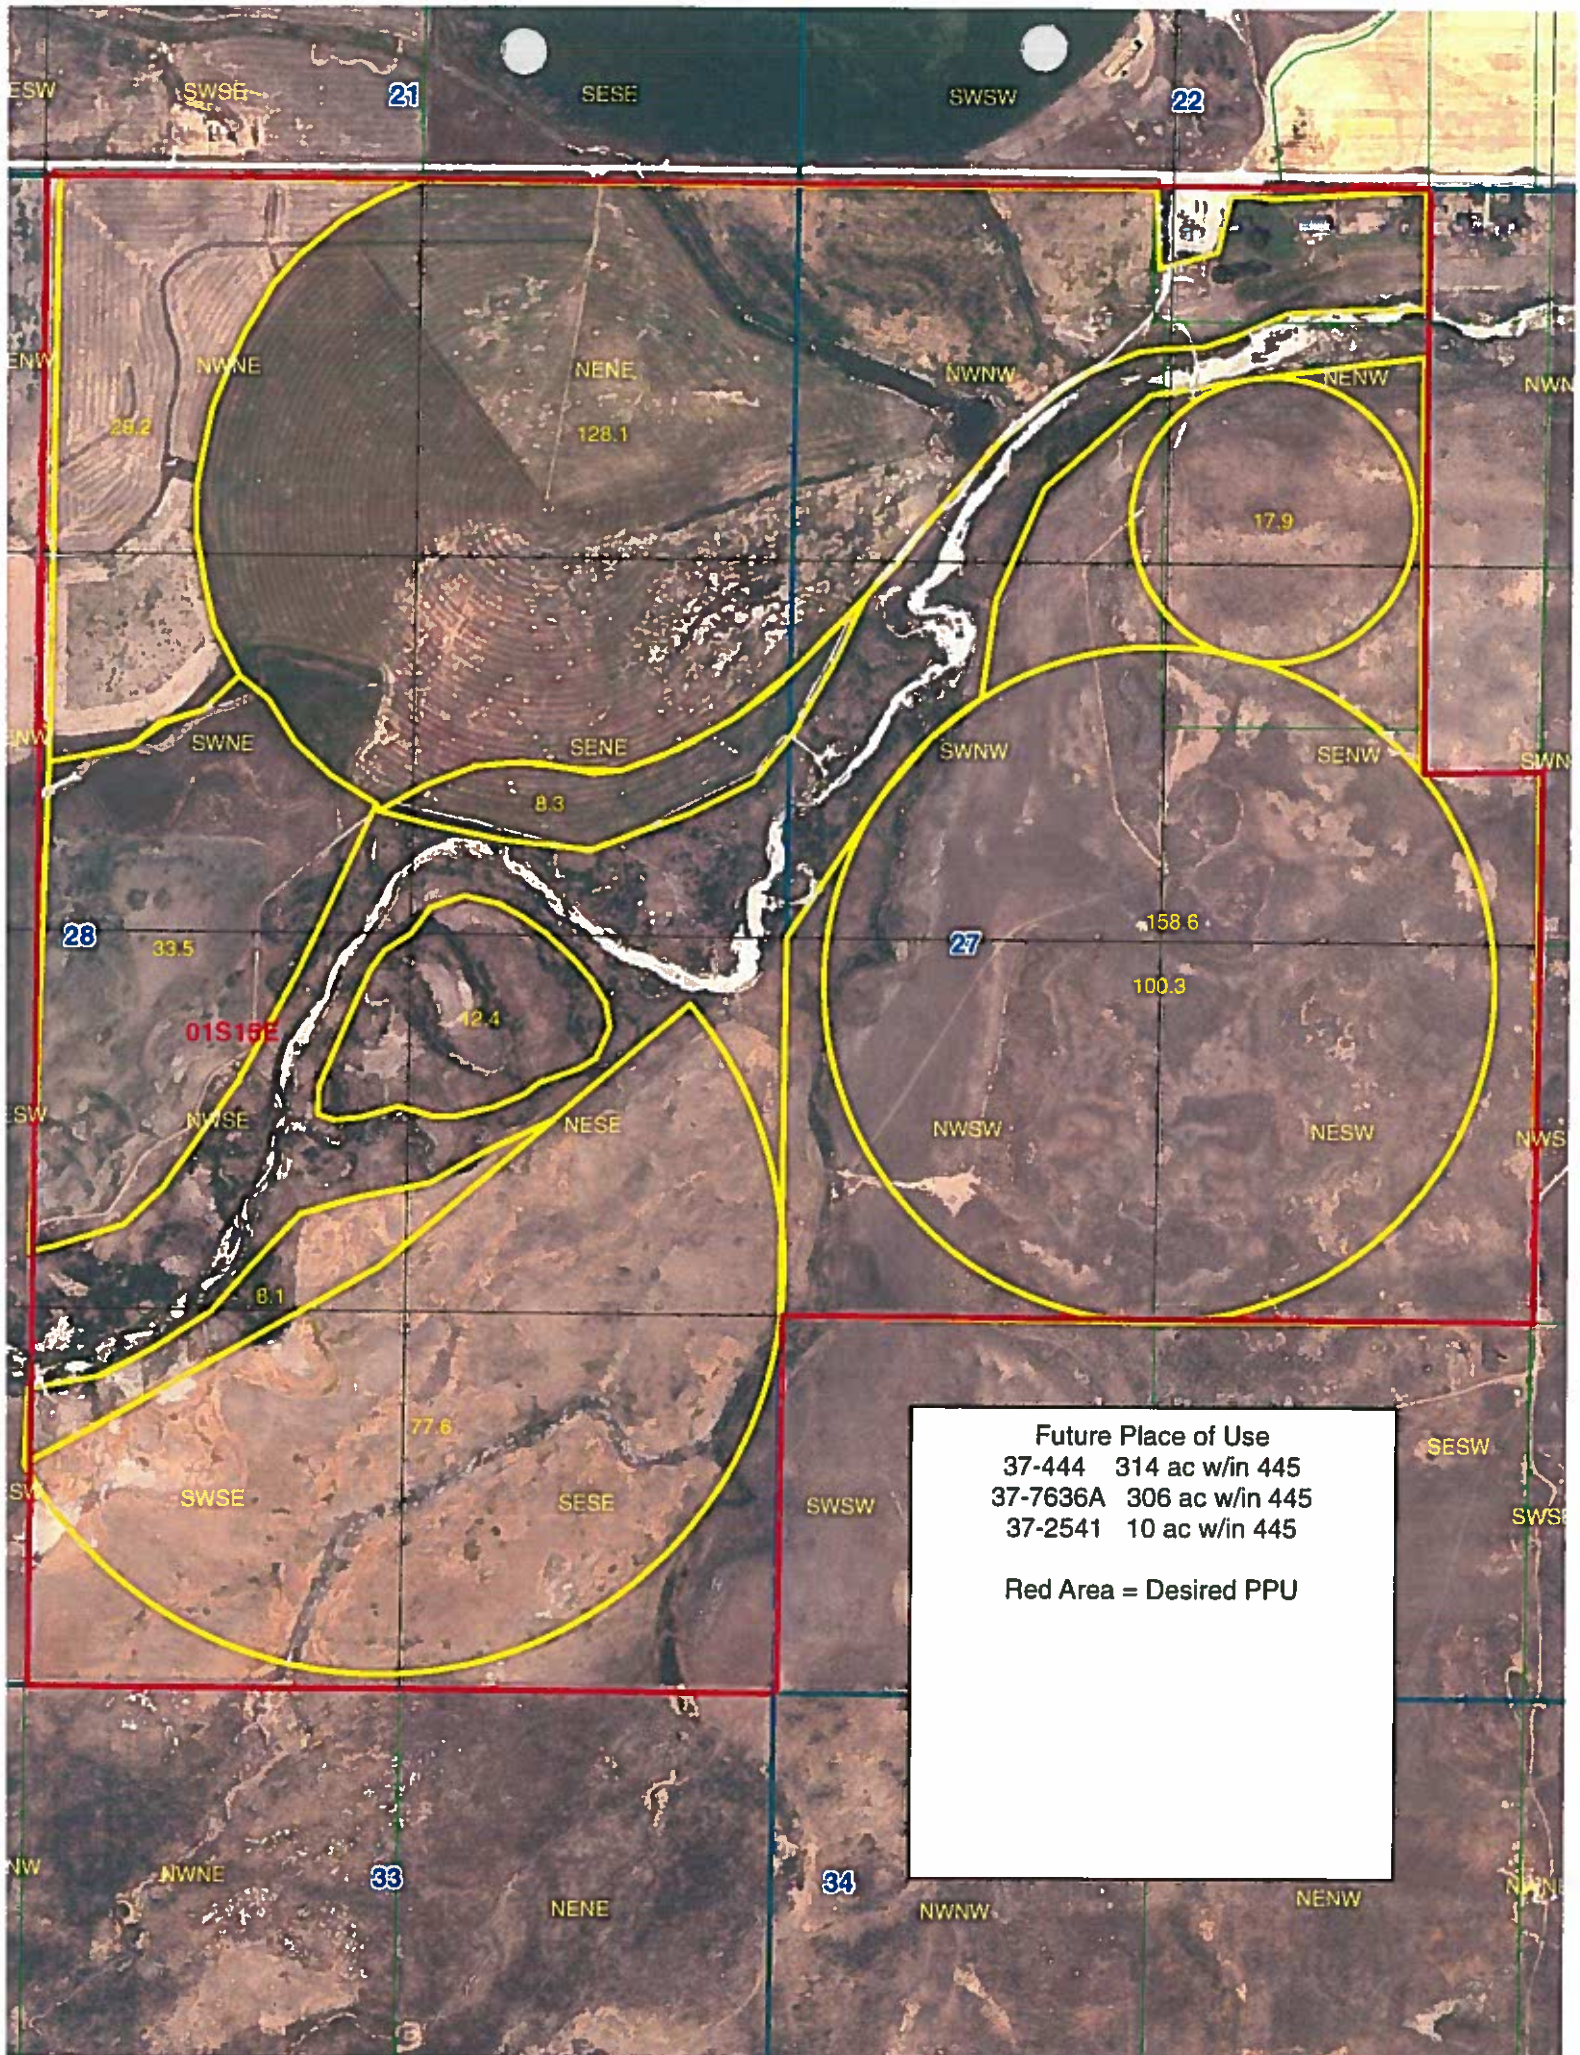

Right 37-444 is limited to use on 314 acres, so forfeiture protection is needed on $314 - 155.6 = 158.4$ ac; the flow rate needing protection is calculated as $4.0 - (155.6 * 0.02) = 0.89$ cfs.

Right 37-7636A is limited to use on 306 acres, so forfeiture protection is needed on $306 - 155.6 = 150.4$ ac; the flow rate needing protection is calculated as $2.4 - (155.6 * 0.02) = < 0.0$ cfs, therefore no flow rate needs to be idled. However, with the fewer acres being irrigated then a volume needs protection and is calculated as $918 - (155.6 * 3.5) = 373.4$ AF.

RECOMMENDATION

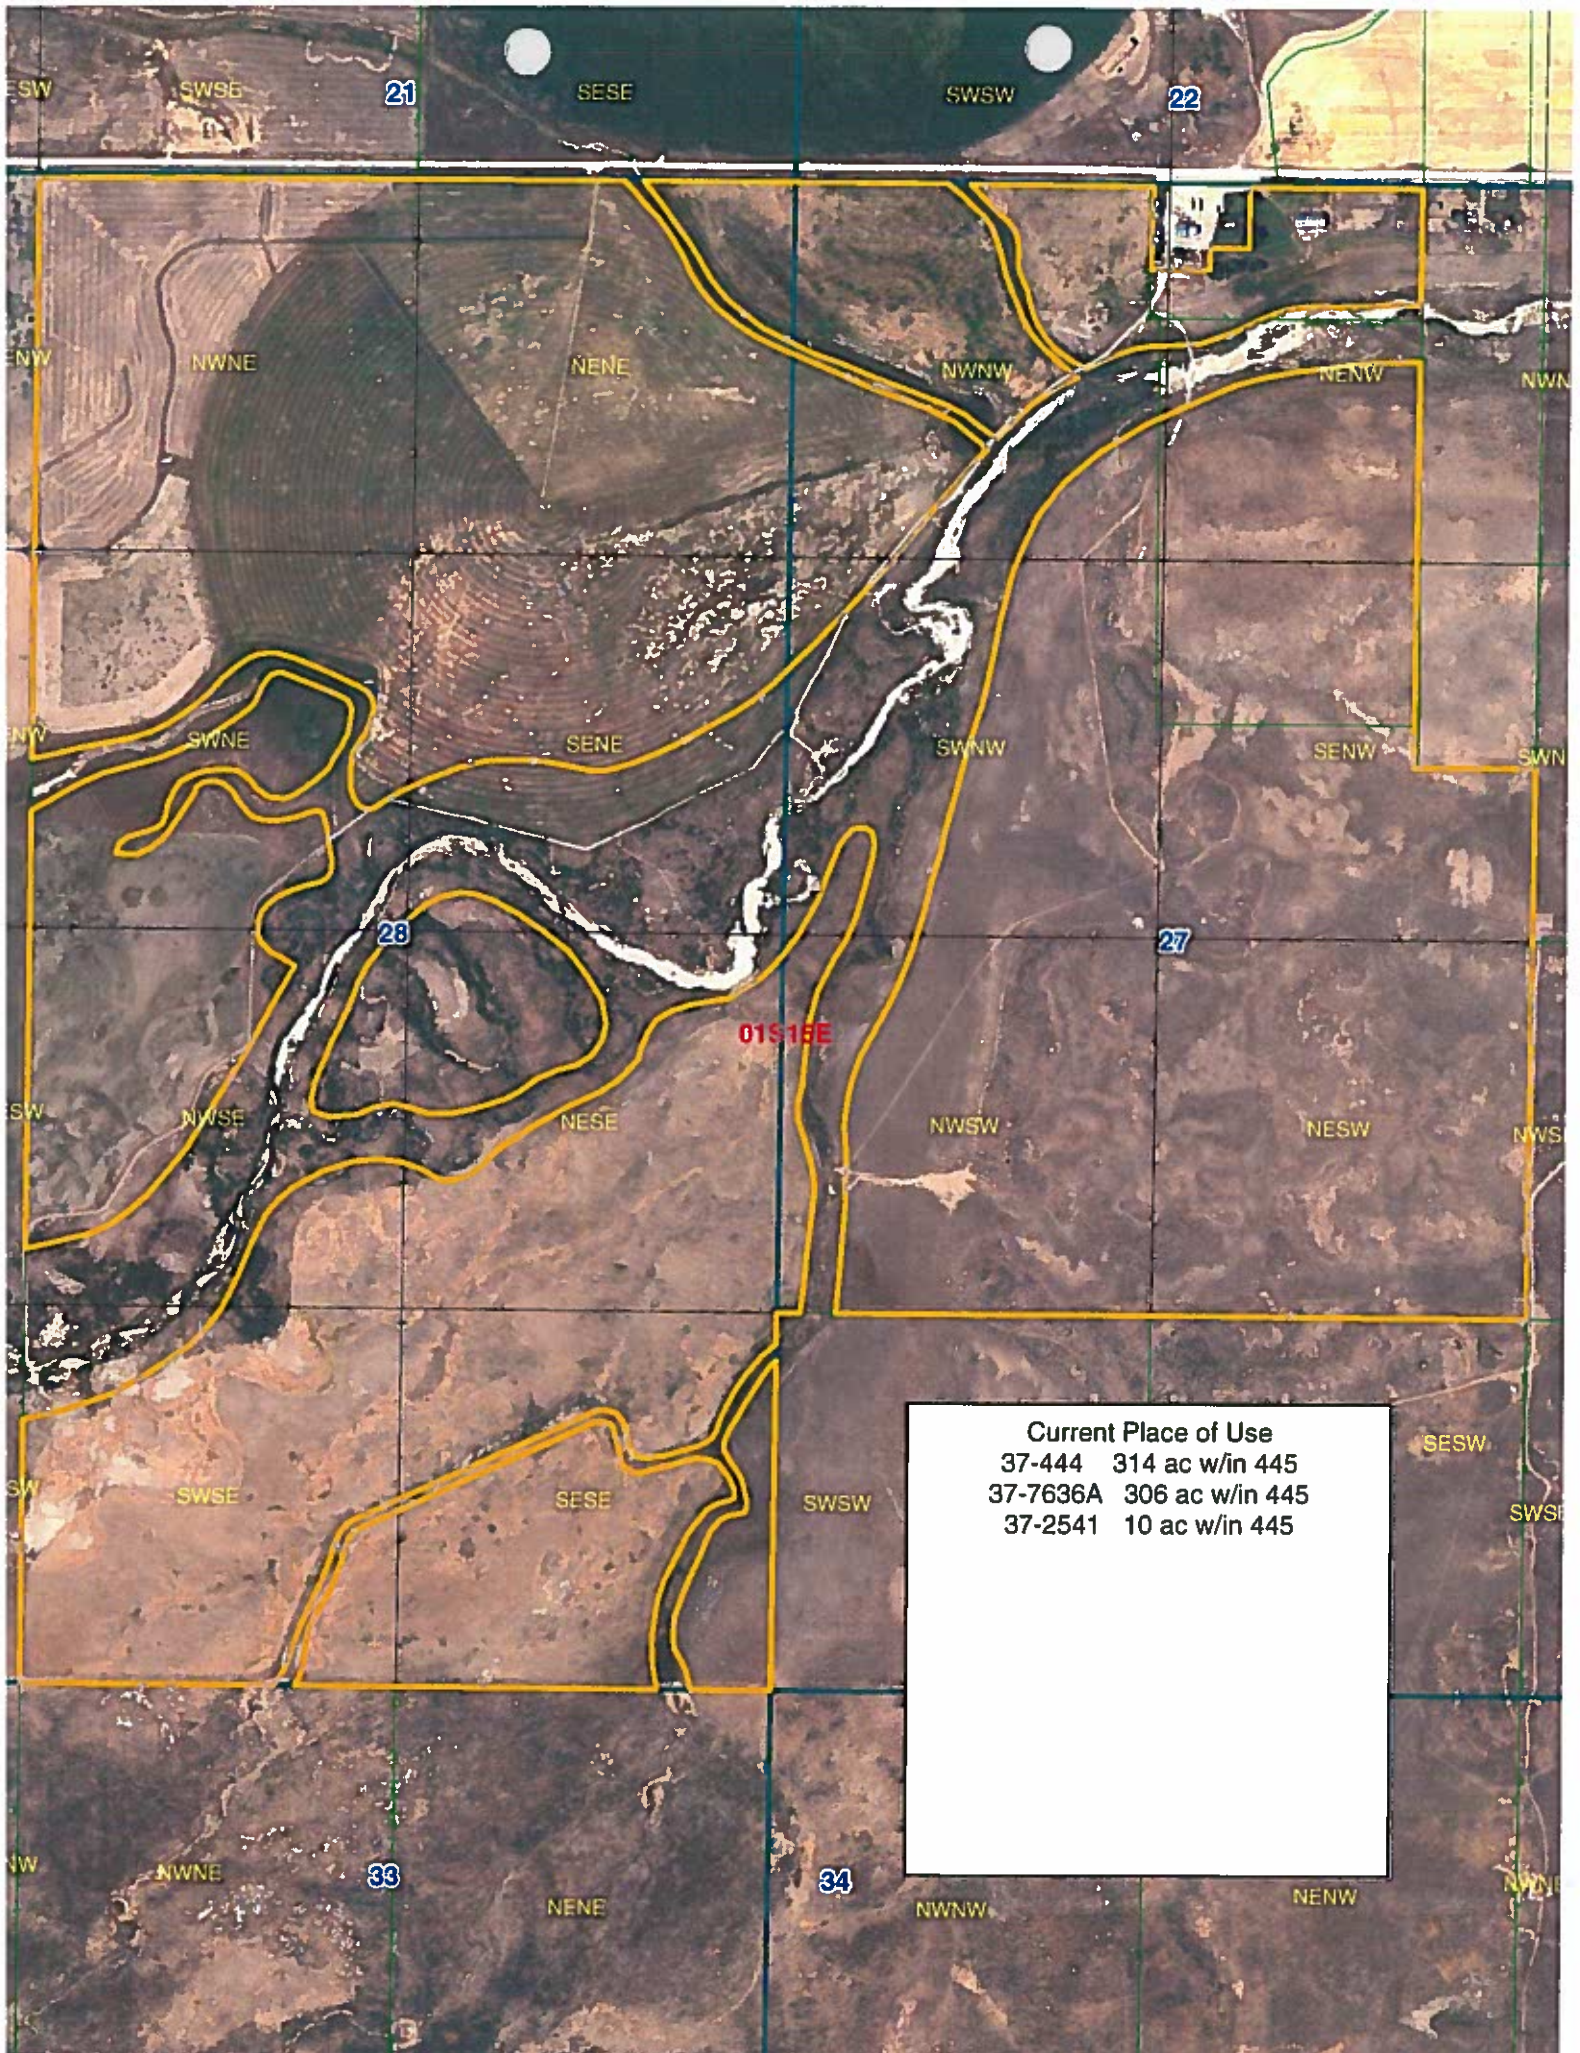

Extension requests can be approved with appropriate conditions and notice provided to applicant that a transfer must be filed to correct place of use discrepancies and in anticipation of further system modifications.

Future Place of Use
