11. Application Remarks:

Overlapping permit 63-32003 was approved in 2006 for the same system and subdivision proposed on this application, but lapsed in 2013. Applicants are attempting to reinstate the permit for the amount of development completed during the permit development period, which was substantially less than the amounts proposed for full build-out of the subdivision's 36 lots. Due to the pending status of lapsed permit 63-32003, this application is being filed for the total amount of potable and fire protection water needed for the subdivision.

The flow rate and volume for lapsed permit 63-32003 was limited due to conditions resulting from a protest. In regards to the Department's preliminary order resulting from the protest, the flow rate proposed on this application reflects peak system demand and will not exceed 10.1 af annual domestic volume conditioned to permit 63-32003, and will not exceed 0.24 af per day (0.12 cfs rate authorized under 63-32003 X 24 hrs/day).

If permit 63-32003 is reinstated and licensed for the limited amount of development accomplished during the permit development period, this application, when combined with water right 63-32003, will not exceed 0.26 cfs and 10.1 afa for domestic and fire protection uses.

Re: Application for Permit No. 63-34087

Dear Applicants:

The Idaho Department of Water Resources (IDWR) received your application for permit requesting a new ground water right for <list use> in south Canyon County. A number of applications proposing a considerable amount of new ground water uses for this area are pending before IDWR. The full extent of proposed development is being clarified based on an ongoing process between the applicants, protestants and IDWR.

IDWR has limited data and knowledge regarding water availability for south Canyon County. Ideally, additional data and information will become available as some applications are processed and evaluated on a seniority basis. This should help determine the extent to which new applications should be approved. An estimate of how long this will take is unknown at this time, particularly with respect to protested applications.

Your application might benefit from limited processing while senior applications are being addressed. This would include the portion of processing in which your application could be published by IDWR in the Press Tribune newspaper as required by Idaho law. Please review the following information to decide how to respond to the enclosed response form.

New Water Right Applications

Section 42-203A, Idaho Code, requires IDWR to consider certain criteria in processing new water right applications. In some cases, the applicant is asked to provide sufficient information to address some or all of the following criteria:

1. Will the new appropriation injure existing water rights?
2. Is the water supply sufficient for the purpose for which it is sought?
3. Is the application made in good faith or for delay or speculation?
4. Does the applicant have sufficient financial resources to complete the project?
5. Will the proposed use conflict with the local public interest, where local public interest is defined as interests that the people in the area directly affected by a proposed water use have in the effects of such use on the public water resource?
6. Will the proposed use be contrary to the conservation of water resources within the State of Idaho?

Application 63-34087
August 27, 2015
Page 2

Options for Consideration

Based on the above explanation, the following options are available for your application:

1. Withdraw the application and receive a full refund. You may re-file at a later date if desired.
2. Have IDWR publish legal notices for your application to determine if protests will be filed. With or without protests, IDWR will hold the application until there is sufficient information available for continued processing of your application. A refund cannot be issued under this option.
3. Have IDWR delay processing until you provide sufficient information to satisfy the above evaluation criteria. Criteria numbers 1 and 2 are applicable to your application. The evidence should include technical data and analysis to support your application.

A consultant list is enclosed for your convenience if you decide to seek expert help.

Please select one of these options by completing and returning the enclosed response form in the next thirty (30) days. You may request more time to make your decision. Your application will be voided if a timely written response is not received. Refunds are not issued for voided applications.

IDWR forms and other information are available on the Internet at www.idwr.idaho.gov. Please call me at 208-334-2190 if you have any questions. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Patrick Kelly
