Re: Error / Readvertisement

During final review of this transfer, I discovered that the application only described a 7.5 acre proposed place of use. The place of use was clearly an error because the three water rights listed in the application would otherwise allow for 131.6 acres of irrigation. The map included in the application clearly and correctly designates the proposed place of use. The advertisement matched the application and only described a 7.5-acre place of use. Applicant's consultant was contacted and confirmed that the place of use should be 131.6 acres.

Applicant will file an amendment correcting the proposed place of use. Readvertisement will not be necessary, however, because the proposed amendment will have no hydrologic effect. In other words, no more water is being moved to the proposed point of diversion than was described in the original advertisement.
