Westwood Water Works (WWW) currently provides ten homes in Kootenai County with residential water from the Rathdrum Prairie aquifer. WWW does not provide any water to residents for agricultural purposes. The water system is currently maintained in a manner to economically utilize our natural resources as efficiently as possible. In addition to monitoring the quality of the water provided WWW also ensures the system is functioning optimally. The cistern is inspected annually to maintain its integrity. The main lines are on a periodic inspection schedule to pressure test them. Residents are encouraged to utilize high efficiency appliances and maintain low consumption yards utilizing native vegetation. WWW is currently in the process of developing an incentive program for residents that install a rain water collection system. We have begun with a basic system consisting of rain barrels, but in the future it is our goal to have residents utilize 5000+ gallon cisterns for rain water collection. The purpose of these systems would be for garden and lawn irrigation as well as on hand fire protection. WWW currently monitors water consumption and tracks the consumption on monthly basis.
