Re: Place of use shape update

Mr. Waddoups was recently informed that he was irrigating acreage that did not appear to be covered by a water right and that he might need to file a transfer. However, upon closer review I found that while the specific acres watered did change, the number of acres irrigated per QQ did not change. The previous POU shape was based on the system in place in 1987. The system has since changed from flood to sprinkler irrigation. The shape has been adjusted to reflect the new irrigation system.
