Dear Dept. of Water Resources,

Please accept this letter as my official petition for reconsideration.

My irrigation well was/is designed to water my back acreage of more than three acres. The acreage has already been fenced and pipes have been purchased to facilitate its use.

The acreage has not been irrigated because I had no permanent right to do so. I explained to the examiner my future plans of a possible vineyard, enlarging the garden, planting melons or grain and a greenhouse. He pointed out that I had no permanent right to do any of that on my own land, with water from my own well until I received my permanent/legal water right.

Please grant an irrigation use on total acres of four/4 in order to meet my needs. Would you also consider changing the terms in #2 from "field headgate" to "well"? Would you also consider modifying #3 to delete sentence number two... "The amount of... pursuant to this right."? Since, in fact, the nearest "tributary" is more than a mile away.

Thank you for your consideration.
