Re: Request for Extension of Time to Complete Transfer

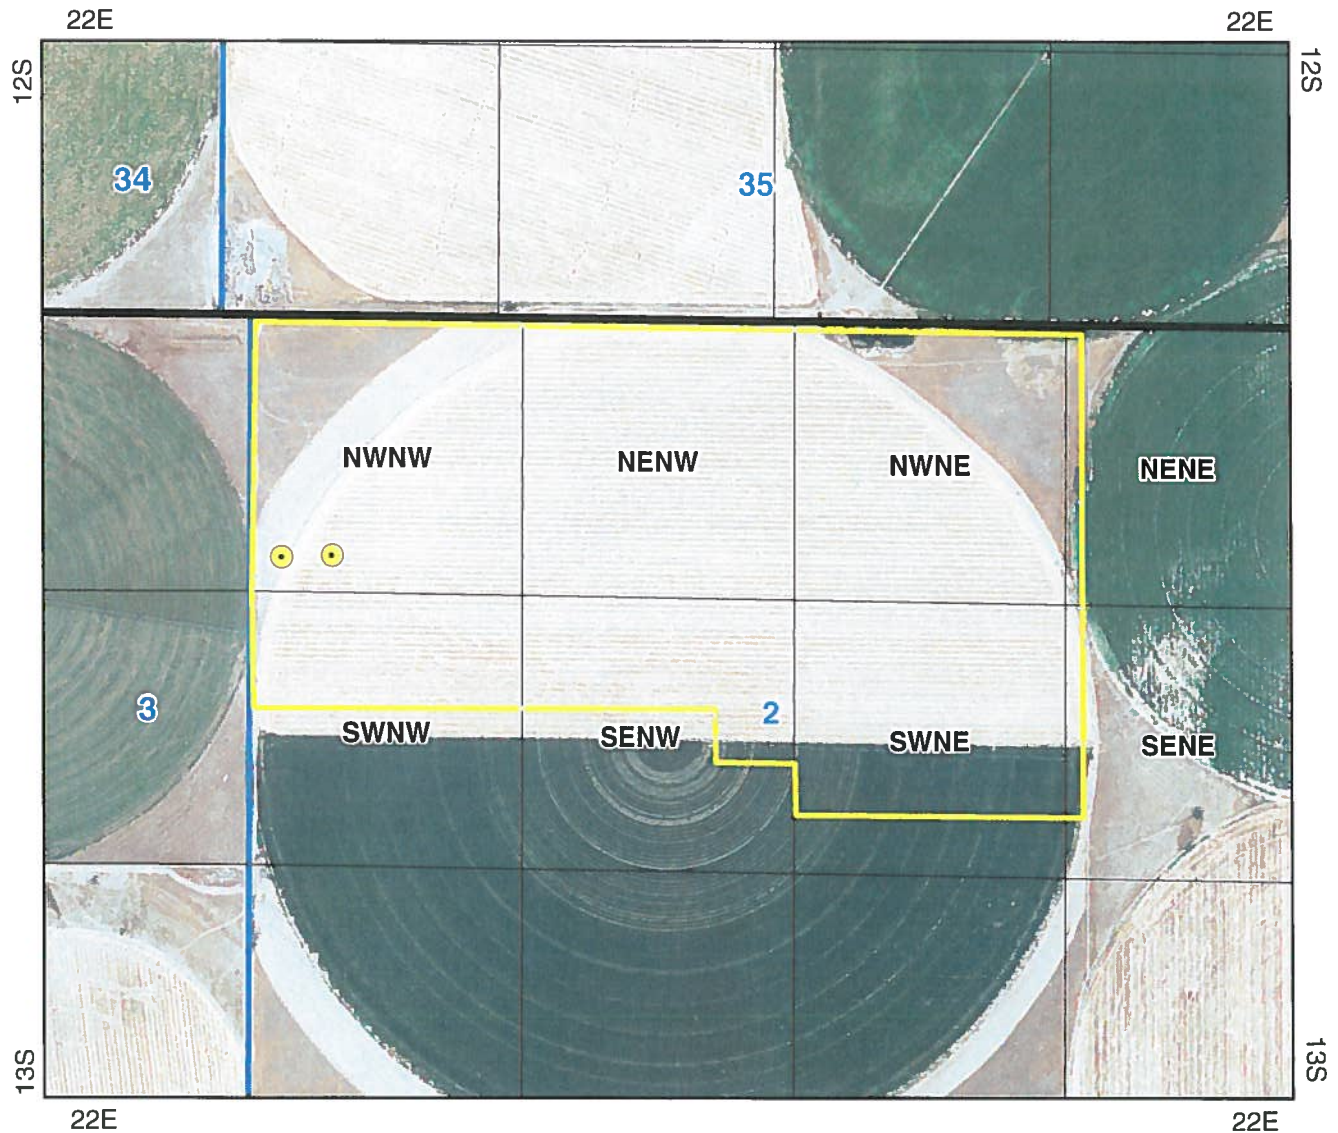

Wybenga Dairy filed for a test well application (D0066597) on July 11th 2014 to drill a test well for a proposed dairy under water right 45-14089. On July 14th the owner requested that the drilling permit be changed to a commercial/stockwater well. At that time it was found that the original transfer (73719) for water right 45-14089 had been approved in May of 2008. Subsequently the development period had passed, in order to allow for the new well to be filed it was required that a request for extension of time to complete the transfer be filed. The owner has filed the request and has shown that due to economic reasons the dairy construction had been postponed and was now underway. Additionally it was found that for the past several years the water intended to be used for the dairy had continued to be used for irrigation on the property, so there should be no issues with forfeiture.
