Dear Ms. Mooers,

Per our conversation I am attaching a partially completed application for permit. Mainly the part I have helped with is the legal description for the place of use and point of diversion as well as the diversion rate. This is your application so it is important that you review the application.

Diversion rate: A standard diversion rate for a single domestic home with up to ½ irrigation is 0.04 cfs: 0.02 cfs for the internal home use and 0.02 for the ½ acre of lawn irrigation. So with two homes = (2 homes at 0.02 cfs)+(0.02 for ½ acre of irrigation) = 0.06 cfs

0.02 cubic feet per second (cfs) = 9 gallons per minute (gpm)

If you want to file the application for all three structures the well serves, you might want to enter in 0.08 cfs. If you irrigate more than ½ acre between the two homes you will need to file for an Irrigation purpose of use as well.

Keep in mind that if you know your well capacity is less than 0.06 cfs, you will want to enter that amount into your application for permit. IDWR will be limited to issuing a license to what can actually be diverted.

When you are ready, you can submit the application to the Northern Region office at:

IDWR – NORTHERN REGION
7600 N MINERAL DR SUITE A
COEUR D'ALENE ID 83815

We spoke about the fees on the phone. When the change of ownership was filed in 2007, $100 filing fee was paid by Clements, Brown & McNichols, and is recorded with IDWR under receipt No. N018272. You indicated that you might want to apply that fee to the new application for permit rather than having it refunded. I told you that I would hold off on requesting the fee be refunded. At this time, I will not take action to initiate a refund. You will need to either notify me to request a refund or submit a request to apply the funds to the application when the new application is submitted.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Respectfully,

Craig L. Saxton
