5. General Information:

- a. Describe the complete diversion system, including how you will accommodate a measuring device and lockable controlling works should they be required now or in the future:

~~This is an existing well head~~ used as a domestic home and winery water supply, currently the orchard and vineyard use drip irrigation on 4.2 acres. With in five years of this transfer a flow meter will be placed in mainline from well head to vineyard lines for an accurate flow rate and measurable discharge of irrigation water to crop.

- b. Who owns the property at the point(s) of diversion? Applicant is the owner

If other than the applicant, describe the arrangement enabling the applicant to access the property for the diversion system:

- c. Are the lands from which you propose to transfer the water right subject to any liens, deeds of trust, mortgages, or contracts?

Narrative of Transfer Scenario Evaluation using a Steady State and Transient Groundwater Model of the Twin Falls Area, Idaho

Stan Haye

G. Erick Powell, Ph.D., P.E.
Brockway Engineering, PLLC

May 14, 2012

Stan Haye has proposed to transfer a portion of existing groundwater rights (47-17555, 47-17565, 47-17560) from the current place of use and point of diversion (T11S R18E Sec 31 SWNE to T8S R14E Sec 19 NENE). IDWR does not currently have an adequate tool to evaluate the impacts of proposed transfers in the Twin Falls area. This narrative describes the evaluation of the proposed transfer using a steady state and transient MODFLOW groundwater model developed by Cosgrove et al. (1997 and 1998).

The City of Twin Falls contracted with the Idaho Water Resources Research Institute of the University of Idaho to design and calibrate numerical groundwater models to evaluate the aquifer underlying the City of Twin Falls and vicinity. The modeling work was completed in two phases, with phase 1 being the design and calibration of a steady state model (Cosgrove et al., 1997) and phase 2 being the design and calibration of a transient model (Cosgrove et al., 1998). For full details regarding the development and calibration of the Twin Falls Area Models, please review the technical completion reports published by the University of Idaho. These calibrated models were deemed sufficient tools to evaluate the impact of the proposed transfer to the aquifer and surrounding surface water reaches. The transient model chosen as the transient evaluation tool consists of 91.25 day time steps for 1825 days (20 stress periods).

Cosgrove et al. (1997 and 1998) MODFLOW codes were imported into the Groundwater Modeling System, a graphical user interface, and evaluated to verify the models reproduced the published results of Cosgrove et al. (1997 and 1998). The calibrated published models were considered to be the current aquifer conditions without the proposed transfer and the baseline model data. Transfer scenario data were added to the models to obtain simulated changes in aquifer surface elevations and flow budgets.

The transfer proposes to dry up 4.3 acres of irrigation at the current place of use with a diversion volume of up to 4 acft/acre. The proposed well location is located less than 1 mile outside the northwestern boundary of the model. Despite the fact that the actual well location is outside of the model boundary, it was concluded that the Twin Falls model provided the best evaluation of the proposed transfer and is an adequate tool to evaluate the transfer.

Figure 1 presents the location of the historical diversion point, the modeled location of the proposed diversion point and the proposed new point of diversion. The model includes drain cells, which were grouped into four different reaches: (1) Snake River Above Rock Creek, (2) Snake River Below Rock Creek, (3) Rock Creek, and (4) Salmon Falls Creek. Transfer model scenarios incorporated the proposed transfer as shown in Table 1.

TRANSFER 78254

The steady state and transient model results simulate the aquifer elevations differences between the current conditions and the proposed transfer at the existing and proposed POD as shown in Figure 2 and Table 2. The transient model suggests the aquifer experiences seasonal fluctuations of 10.9 ft at the existing POD and 5.1 ft at the proposed POD. The changes to the water surface elevations at the proposed POD or surrounding area from model results are a fraction of a percent of the seasonal variability. More variability in the aquifer differences between the current aquifer elevations and the simulated aquifer elevations are noticed at the existing POD. This is a result of ceasing irrigation pumping during the irrigation season at the existing POD.

The steady state and model results were also evaluated to obtain changes to the model drains from the proposed transfer. The drain cell groups are shown in Figure 1. The steady state and transient results for the changes in river reach flow as a result of the proposed transfer are shown in Figure 3 and Table 3. The proposed POD is located very near the Snake River and it is not surprising that the effect of pumping is realized immediately. The existing POD is located a substantial distance from the river reaches and it takes additional time for the positive effects from not pumping groundwater to be realized in the river reach.

Table 3: Changes to river reach flow (cfs) as a result from the proposed transfer. Data plotted in Figure 3. Positive numbers indicate increase in surface water flows. Negative numbers indicate a decrease in surface water flows. (TS = 91.25 days)

IDWR does not have set criteria for allowable impacts from proposed transfers in the Twin Falls Area. An increase of flow in the Snake River above Rock Creek would be positive for Idaho Power, with the potential for more flow through Twin Falls and Shoshone hydroelectric facilities. A decrease in flow in the Snake River and Salmon Falls Creek may affect water diverters from these sources, however from our brief review it is unknown the number and quantity of water rights delivered to these reaches. Increase flow in the Snake River upstream could result in full mitigation of reduced levels in the downstream portions of the Snake River.

ALONZO B LEAVELL, PO BOX 54, GOODING, ID 83330 has filed Application No. 78359 for changes to the following water rights within GOODING & LINCOLN County(s): Right No(s). 37-13043, 37-13112, 37-13113, 37-13114, 37-21401, 37-21402, 37-21403, 37-21404, 37-21405. The purpose of the transfer is to change a portion of the above rights as follows: Application proposes to add diversion points to nine Little Wood River rights owned by the Big Wood Canal Company to allow for the diversion of Big Wood Canal Company shares from the Big Wood River rather than the Little Wood River. The application describes a point of diversion where water from the Little Wood River enters the X Canal along the west side of Gooding, a point of injection where the X Canal discharges into the Big Wood River northwest of Gooding, and two new proposed points of rediversion from the Big Wood River northwest of Gooding. The rediversion points from the Big Wood River will be located approximately 0.6 miles west and 1.7 miles north, and 0.65 miles west and 1.65 miles north of the Highway 26 and 46 intersection. The application proposes limiting the diversion of water from the two new rediversion points to no more than a combined total of 0.41 cfs.

The purpose of the transfer is to change a portion of the above rights as follows: Application for transfer proposes to change the place of use (POU) and add points of diversion (PODs) for fifteen groundwater irrigation rights. Two rights 5.12 CFS (310.6 Acres), currently appurtenant to a farm located approximately 10.2 mi to 11.2 mi E of Declo, are diverted from three wells located the following approximate distances from Declo: 10.4 mi. E & 1.0 mi N, 10.3 mi. E, and 10.7 mi. E. An additional thirteen rights allow for the irrigation of 171 acres on adjacent ground, from a well located approximately 11.2 mi. E & 1.3 mi. N (132 acres, 1.74 CFS) of Declo and a well located approximately 10.0 mi E. & 1.0 mi. N (39 acres, 0.48 CFS) of Declo. Application proposes to create a 3469.7-acre permissible place of use (PPU) located approximately 7.9 to 11.9 mi. E & 0.3 to 2.0 mi. N of Declo by combining all fifteen rights. The well located approximately 11.2 mi. E & 1.3 mi. N of Declo will be relocated to a new location approximately 10.8 mi. E & 1.0 mi. N of Declo. These five wells will allow for the diversion of up to 7.34 CFS (481.6 acres) for use within the PPU. Rights (10 CFS, 546 acres) on an adjacent farm, located approximately 9.7 to 11.2 mi E & 1.3 mi. N to 0.7 mi. S of Declo, also utilizes the three wells located the following approximate distances from Declo: 10.4 mi. E & 1.0 mi N, 10.3 mi. E, and 10.7 mi. E and will be modified to reflect the ability to divert water from the additional two wells.

MEMORANDUM

Date: January 30, 2013
To: Transfer 78254 File
From: Benny Walker
Re: Evaluation of Sufficiency of Information Submitted

Application proposes transferring a 4.3 acre portion (0.08 cfs) of three groundwater rights from a farm located approximately 7.2-8.0 miles south and 0.75-1.5 miles west of the center of Kimberly to irrigation use associated with an orchard and winery located approximately 8.6 miles north and 4.5 miles west of the center Buhl. The transferred portion of the rights (0.08 cfs) will be diverted from an existing domestic well associated with a home and the property. The wells involved with the transfer are located outside the ESPA smooth model boundary area so a ground water model analysis is not required. However a model analysis of the Twin Falls area was provided by Brockway Engineering showing a minimal impact to the Snake River for the area. The three groundwater rights, 47-17555, 47-17560, and 47-17565 involved with the transfer all include a condition indicating that they are combined with Twin Falls Canal Company water. However, the application includes a letter from the Twin Falls Canal Company indicating the limited number, and specific location of shares on the original place of use. Note that the three groundwater rights, involved with the transfer allow for the total irrigation of 4.3 acres and that the letter from the canal company indicates that there are only 100 shares of water on 182.9 acres total of the parent rights. Further more, the canal company letter also identifies the specific lands that these 100 shares are appurtenant to. Note that the 4.3 acre portion of the three groundwater rights proposed to be transferred does not overlap the specific lands that the 100 canal company shares are appurtenant to. It should also be noted that the Department has previously approved similar types of transfers in the past involving portions of these same three groundwater rights.

- Authority to File:
Applicant has submitted warranty deeds for the proposed place of use. The application includes a copy of a purchase and sales agreement for the rights being transferred from the current owner to the applicant. After transfer approval the current owner of the rights involved in the transfer will provide a Quit Claim Deed to the new owner. The new owner will then file a notice of change in water right ownership to the department.
- Water Right Validity:
The rights involved 47-17555, 47-17560, and 47-17565 with the transfer were decreed in 2009.
- Injury to Other Water Rights:
None anticipated.
- Enlargement of Use:
None anticipated. No enlargement of use through the transfer
- Local Public Interest:
Application will be subject to public notice and protest.
- Beneficial Use/Conservation of Water Resources:
Proposed uses are recognized as beneficial uses of water.
- Effect on Economy of the Local Area:
No issues anticipated
- Effect of the Agricultural Base of the Local Area:
None anticipated.

Review of the application finds there is no clear inconsistency with criteria set forth in Section 42-222 Idaho Code preventing processing of this application.

Dear Benny

In this water right transfer packet for Paul Monahan attached is a model, run by Brockway engineering.

Over the past several years Paul has made an extensive effort in trying to locate a water right for his property located in the NE of the NE Section 19 Township 8 South Range 18 East.

We propose to transfer enough water to satisfy his current use and irrigation needs for this property.

If there are any questions please leave a message on my cell phone at 208-731-9930.

Sincerely
