Re: File Recreated

File appears to have been recreated from microfilm. However, there is nothing in the file to indicate why the file was recreated.

- There is no evidence that the file was voided and then reinstated
- The file inventory does not indicate that the file was ever destroyed
- There is not a coversheet in the file that explains why it was recreated
- There are no notes in the database explaining why it was recreated

Despite that we don't seem to have any information explaining why the file has been recreated, I don't see a reason why we can't move forward with licensing.
