Re: phone call

I received a phone call from Mr. David Flint today. He had a few questions about the water right amendments that had I sent to him.

He stated that the oldest well (the Woodman well) is no longer producing water at the rate that it used to and that the current well systems are configured to satisfy the uses differently than they were in the 1980s.

He mentioned that they were considering redrilling the oldest well.

I explained that I was required to issue the licenses based on how the water rights were developed. I also briefly explained that I was combining all the uses found by the examiners into the one water right with the most senior priority. Then I explained that I had had to divide that single right into 2 pieces to correctly represent the 2 well systems that they had developed. He confirmed that two of the three wells were linked in the past.

He expressed a concern that he had lost authorization for one of the wells. Because the wells are all located in lot 7 and two of them are in the same parcel, the addressing on the amendment documents did not clearly differentiate three well locations. I assured Mr. Flint that three different points of diversion which represent 3 different wells are authorized under the two splits 47-17578 and 47-17579.

I don't believe that he has seen my licensing review but he seemed to understand my explanations. He was satisfied with the total rate and with priority date that I was recommending. He promised to return the amendments to me as soon as possible.
