Sandy,

Attached are two of the maps you sent me. One I marked showing the approximate location of the spring used by the main cabin. The other I marked showing the location of the main cabin which uses the spring water. The red line on both maps shows the approximate location of the water line (pvc pipe) which connects the main cabin and the spring.

Let me know if you have trouble reading the maps, and we can try something else. I believe my nephew, Alex, is gone for the weekend. But I will have him double check the accuracy of the location of the spring and water line when I can catch him.

John
