RE:	IDWR Application for Transfer and for Permits to appropriate

INCLUDED HEREWITH:

COPIES	DATE	REMARKS
1	3/19/12	Transfer Application from Irrigation to Fire Pond Storage
1	3/19/12	Application for Permit to appropriate for Fire Pond flow-through
1	3/19/12	Application for Permit to appropriate for PWS (Groundwater)
1	3/19/12	Joint IDWR / COE Permit for work in Juanita Creek

Enclosed herewith are three water rights applications for the Linn Canyon Ranch in Teton County, as well as the joint IDWR/COE permit for the proposed diversion work in Juanita Creek.

The Teton County Fire Protection District is requiring that the Linn Canyon Ranch construct a fire pond. The proposed water source is Juanita Creek, a perennial stream at the ranch that sinks about a half mile downstream of the Linn property. Peter and Trudy Linn have existing irrigation rights from this source (22-535, 22-5095). They propose to transfer the prorata consumptive share from irrigation to fire pond storage and to offset the evaporative loss. A draft of the transfer application was reviewed by Blake Jordan of your office, and then discussed over the phone on March 12, 2012. Since in reality only 0.03 cfs is being transferred, the fee level for the transfer is being based on that threshold. A separate application for permit to appropriate for flow through in the fire pond is being submitted concurrently. The fire pond is a pit reservoir located directly adjacent to the source or Juanita Creek.

The other water right application is for a permit to appropriate groundwater associated with the public water supply system for the Linn Canyon Ranch. The guest ranch was initiated in 2004 and permitted as a public water supply with DEQ (PWS ID 7410039). The application addressed the future addition of guest cabins, and the facility plans showed these future connections. At that time the Ranch intended to operate the Guest Lodge and catering business, but did not intend to develop the cabins for some time. Therefore when the Drilling Permit was issued (D0035151), it was permitted for Lodge Use only. The Owners now intend to start constructing several cabins a year, and will connect them to the water system. Therefore, they are now in need of an appropriation for this commercial use.

Also included herewith is the joint IDWR / COE permit for the diversion work in Juanita Creek.

Sincerely,

SIGNED: James Ramage, PE
