Yesterday Jo Beeman and I discussed procedures for this case. Jo wants to show that Astorquias were the only permit holders whose extension request based on IPCO's power hookup moratorium was granted for fewer than five years. She proposed that either IDWR stipulate to that fact or that IDWR be named as a party so she can conduct discovery. I responded that IDWR is not inclined to go to the expense of its own accord to ascertain if her assertion is true. Moreover, naming IDWR as a party would be highly unusual. IDWR's records are open to Ms. Beeman and her clients for their research.
