Dear Parties,

I am okay moving the deadlines back a couple of weeks. I will be out of the office until Monday of next week. Consider this email a confirmation that the dates will be officially moved to Sept 16 / Oct 21. If you would submit a simple stipulation, I will prepare an Order . . . which will be issued sometime early next week. Thank you for the advanced notice.

James

Subject: 37-7842 Briefing Schedule

James,

The initial briefs are presently due this Friday, August 26, and the response brief is due September 30. If acceptable to you, Shasta and I have agreed to move these deadlines back a bit. We are in agreement to having the initial briefs due September 16, and the response briefs due October 21.

This amounts to a three week extension. The matter is not presently set for hearing and the requested extension should not pose a problem.

If acceptable, I would prepare and submit a stipulation along with a proposed order.

Thank you for your consideration.

Joe
