Re: Term Review Condition

It is not clear from the water right file why condition 051, a trust water condition, was placed on the permit and license for Right 95-9421. I can only speculate that the issuer wanted to reserve the opportunity to review the right in the future if access to the point of diversion is denied. At any rate, this right should not be considered a trust water right. I left the condition in the database but removed the condition number to prevent the right from showing up in queries of rights with trust water conditions. If the right holders ask, IDWR should consider removing the condition altogether.
