Dear Pancheris:

I have received your protests to my proposal to downsize my application for hot water and remove condition #9 which was attached to the original proposal that involved ten times as much water.

First, your commentary about monitoring puzzles me because I was required to install and pay for expensive equipment and to monitor it in order to ascertain if you were injured by my use of water. I bought two water flow devises because of rocks that were coming down your pipe line and have had to alternate them from time to time. I spent many days monitoring and paid others including Terry Scanlon, to monitor so that we have a great deal of information about water temperature and flow in your pipeline. The hearing officer desired that monitoring take place, the more the better. I have complied with this wish. If you do not want further monitoring, I will be happy to remove all of my equipment. I shall plan to do so the spring of 2011 to honor your feelings about my being on your property.

Second, my proposal is to downsize the application to the water right of spring water that my spa house is using because I do not plan to build the commercial spa for which I bought the property. I am not pumping more than the rate of my decreed right which predates your rights by decades. Both you and I are using more water volume than my early right and your later right, however, I am not exceeding the volume for the permit for which I have applied. You have not applied for the volume that you are using.

I can put a pipe from the geothermal well to your fence line and meet the conditions of #9. In order for any water to be pumped from it to you, you will have to show proof of my injury to you and you will have to stop exceeding your volume.

Sincerely,

CM

Carol Lynn MacGregor
