James:

I had intended to provide you this notification earlier, but have been delayed from getting to it after several days out of the office.

On May 26th, I conferred with counsel for the represented parties in this contested case seeking a stipulation that the deadline for serving initial expert reports be extended from Friday June 3 until Friday June 10. I received confirmation from counsel of their agreement to this extension, with the further stipulation that the deadline for deposing expert witnesses be extended to from June 24th to July 1, and for serving rebuttal reports be extended until Monday July 18.

The stipulated extension for initial expert reports was an accommodation to me. The other stipulated extensions are an appropriate result. They should not otherwise affect the scheduled hearing dates, nor the pro se parties--none of whom disclosed any expert witnesses.

Sincerely,

Michael C. Creamer
