REF: Phone conversation with Tom Taylor (additional information)

During a phone conversation with Tom Taylor (509) 939-1389, on 4/19/2011, Mr. Taylor clarified information about the systems. The location of the springs in the NESE, domestic use (camper, shop), stocktanks, no irrigation from the pond and never has been, and the "diversion to storage" from Hellroaring Creek to the pond not being on either permit 96-8685 or 96-8686.

Mr. Taylor was informed that he would either need to file another application for permit for that point of diversion on Hellroaring Creek and diversion to storage, or in accordance with Idaho Code 42-351 Illegal Diversion or use of water, he would need to cease diverting and use of water immediately. Mr. Taylor stated that he would discontinue diverting and "diversion to storage" from Hellroaring Creek to the pond, since he had no intentions of filing another application for permit for that use.
