Jeff,

This e-mail is the notice to IDWR that the change in point of diversion approved by Transfer 76991 has been completed. Its location and GPS coordinates and the location of the old point of diversion are depicted on the attached map printed from Google Earth. A picture looking upstream taken from the new point of diversion is also included.

Please note that measuring devices and lockable control works are installed at each of the authorized points of measurement for the water rights which are the subject of the Transfer. Kindly contact me if you have any questions. Thank you.

Jim
