Mr. Westra,

I agree with Charlie's statements in his earlier email to you regarding the parties' progress toward resolution. We are now working to ensure that the ownership is identified accurately according to the law.

We are optimistic that we can complete our analysis and negotiations in 60 days. Thank you for your patience.

John:

As Rich Stover and I represented to you on the telephone earlier today, our respective clients are continuing to work out the issues of ownership of the water rights subject to and related to the above-referenced applications, and are making significant progress. We expect to continue our progress and simply request from IDWR an additional 60 days to finish our analyses of and negotiations over the issues. Our expectation is that within that time period, we will be able to inform IDWR of a resolution of the issues.

Thank you for your patience.
