Brad,

I guess we can acknowledge that some beneficial use has occurred based on the photos and information you provided. We could process permit 36-16799, which was put on HOLD, and the accompanying application for transfer 76085 on right 36-136A, which was withdrawn, if you re-submit with new information and maps showing the acres put to use and consequently being dried up. Jeanie,

The Henslee have Bulls in this area grazing now. I went to take some pictures and they were all on the north side of the Hunt Ditch. As you can see, I wasn't going to chase them back over to the other side but they are grazing that general area.

Here are three pictures of the bulls showing beneficial use.

Do you need to do an inspection and are these pictures acceptable.

Hi Brad,

We discussed the pictures and maps you provided regarding the pipeline installation showing irrigation on the extra acres outside of the current place of use of water right 36-136A. The State Office feels that what we need is evidence of beneficial use, not just evidence of water application in order to recognize the additional acres and provide defense to forfeiture. You indicated the beneficial use was stock water and that this is basically pasture land. I think that what they would like to see is evidence of cattle grazing in this area that has continued to be watered. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Jeanie
