Re: Transfer Evaluation

This transfer proposes to change the Place of Use and Point of Diversion. Since this is in the Bear River drainage the absolute location of historic use is not always clear. These rights however were sold to the new owner by the just retired Water master of Whiskey Creek, Glen Turner. This lends credibility to the declared place of use. The new Water Master, Frank Swenson was also contacted and he clarified the actual location of the point of diversion.

In addition, Glen Turner identified the owners of the remainder of the rights as Roger Mickelsen and Steve Tingey. They own the 14.4 acres and 38.2 acres, respectively, that are left over on the transfer. This resulted in family sales by Glen Turner and his grandfather.

I have checked with the Caribou County Assessors office and Mr. Tingey and Mr. Mickelsen bought their portions of the original POU in June and October of 2000, respectively. Each party will be sent a letter asking them to submit a change of ownership form for their portions. Both parties have been listed as "Present Owners" on the unsplit portions of the rights.

Authority to File:

Subject land is owned by the applicant as evidenced by warranty deed.

Water Right Validity:

Validity of the rights involved: The rights involved are decrees and the new Water master has no objection to the transfer.

Injury to Other Water Rights:

The original protest by the brother of the old Water master was withdrawn and no other injury appears obvious.

Enlargement of Use:

There is no evidence of enlargement of use. However, we have included a permissible place of use but limited the irrigation to the additive acres.

Local Public Interest:

No issues identified.

Beneficial Use / Conservation of Water Resources:

No issue identified.

Review of the application finds there is consistency with criteria set forth in Section 42-222 Idaho Code in processing of this application.

The application has been advertised and there was one protest but that has been withdrawn.
