Date: 9/9/2010

9/9/2010, I called Mr. Eckhardt to get some clarification on the system. Mr. Eckhardt stated that the 2400 gallon storage tank is spring fed (from another water right), and there is no co-mingling of spring and groundwater in the system used for irrigation or for fire protection. The buried line throughout the yard/garden is ¾" PVC, with variable size pop-up Toro sprinkler nozzles, and drip system.

The POU below the house is used for irrigation for livestock, but right now they are free-ranch.

We discussed the difference between the Permit being approved for Irrigation only, and that even though he included Domestic use on the Proof of Beneficial Use form, that it could not be added to this License. I explained to Mr. Eckhardt that if he wanted a water right for Domestic use, he would need to submit an application for permit for that use. Mr. Eckhardt stated that he has no intension of filing another application for permit at the present time, that he was fine with Irrigation only.
