Hello Monica,

Thank you for your email and the info. Attached is a picture of the 'T' already attached on our pump. We are able to open one side, and let the other side discharge like in the diagram your boss sent. Or we can open both, either or none. Joe said it is basically the same apparatus that your boss suggested.

Anyway, please let us know if this will be sufficient, or what exactly we need to do now to be finished and receive the permit.

Thanks for your help,
Sandie
