Mr. Nuzzo,

As per our phone conversation on February 9, 2010 and your description of your pump and sprinkler system, I believe we will have the ability to establish an accurate diversion rate for your sprinkler system even with the absence of a dedicated measuring device.

I am willing to allow a waiver to the requirement for a measuring device and allow you to go forward with proof of beneficial use with the absence of this requirement. However I reserve the right to invoke this requirement in the future in the event that it might become necessary.

Sincerely,

Ron Shurtleff
