Permit #- 15-7293

When this property was purchased we knew that it was in CRP until 2011 and had set aside the money to buy out the contract. We continued with the purchase of the property and applied for the water permit. We did not know however that the contract of CRP would require us to pay back the previous 10 years of contract since the new contract was a 4 year extension. We do realize that it was a misunderstanding on our part and in no way anyone else's fault.

We have the money to drill the well however do not have the money to buy out the previous contract and drill the well. We do not want to drill the well and then let it sit for the next 3 years idle and still not be able to show beneficial use of the water either.

We are aware that financial reasons are not generally acceptable as a reason for extension. However when we received the extension form again we decided to at least explain the situation and apply for the extension of time. This is not only a financial decision but an issue of common sense. We had already contacted the well drilling company and made all of the arrangements, found the wheel lines and the pumps for the property. We have every intention of planting alfalfa as our main crop on this property and utilizing the water this permit refers to as soon as the property is out of CRP.

We realize that this is a major oversight on our part and only hope that you will be able to see fit to extend the permit until the fall of 2012.

With all due respect:
