Karilynn,

Mr. David Gallo has spoken with me on many occasions about this change of ownership. As you may have noticed I sent him a letter asking for more info because the title company sent just the change of ownership with very little information, they did not even have the water right number. He tried his best to get all the information he could but was only able to come up with a Personal Representatives Deed. The title company told him that was all he would get because the land had been trusted to the deceased owner's daughter. I told him that I thought we would need the warranty deed and despite the situation he should have still gotten one. He said he had called them two or three times and got the same response every time. I told him to go ahead and send what he had and we would call the title company of we needed more information. The title company is Guaranty Title of Mountain Home.

If you have any questions let me know!

Thanks!
