Zach – As we discussed, the point of diversion as described on the application was incorrect with regard to the section. All other elements of the pod description were correct, so I corrected the section from Sec. 36 to Sec. 30 as it should have been. The correct pod for this source is described on the decreed irrigation right owned by the applicant, so the two filings now match in this regard. Processing of the app is continuing, and I would expect it to be advertised shortly. This is just a note for the file verifying our communication on this issue.
