Subject: transfer app 74046 [wr 63-3298] Rawlings

Hi Christian –

I am reviewing this application for transfer and see that an amendment is required. The stated purpose of the transfer is to “change place of use” and create a permissible place of use for a new subdivision, Cimarron Ridge. The application further states that the points of diversion are 2 existing irrigation wells. However, there is only 1 POD for right 63-3298.

IDWR records [well log] indicate that the well drilled in 1992 was intended to be a replacement well. The SRBA claim and subsequent recommendation was for 1 POD. If the applicant did not abandon the original well and now intends to use both existing wells, the application for transfer must be amended to add this POD.

The easiest way is probably for your office to copy the first page of the transfer app you submitted, sent that to the applicants and have them check the “add pod”, initial it and send it to us. This amendment has to be done by the applicants and cannot be done by a consultant.

As soon as I receive the amendment, the remainder of the transfer review process should go rather quickly. Thanks -
