The forest service just bought some of the private land out here and some is still private which is why we are uncertain of the ownership at the point of diversion.

MEMORANDUM

TO: File 94-7258
FROM: Sharla
DATE: September 12, 1990
RE: P/D Determination

A request for the submittal of a licensing amendment was made in light of the fact that the examination report listed the point of diversion as being in the NW $\frac{1}{4}$ NW $\frac{1}{4}$, S32, rather than the SW $\frac{1}{4}$ NW $\frac{1}{4}$ as originally permitted.

After reviewing incoming correspondence along with its attached subdivision plats, it was determined that the point of diversion is actually located in the SW $\frac{1}{4}$ NW $\frac{1}{4}$ as originally filed. The license will be issued with this description as well as listing the source of water as an unnamed stream (creek), therefore, no amendment is necessary.

Dear Sharla Curtis:

This letter is in regard to Permit No. 94-7258, Jeanne Bell's use of domestic water resource. You claim her water source is Gimlet Cr. based on a very poor drawing by an employee of yours whose name is not on the map. It does not show which direction is north. I have included copies of the plat showing the boundaries of Jeanne Bell's land - parcel 15 on the plat, so that you might have a better picture. As you can see on the plat, Gimlet Cr. forms part of the Northwest boundary of her land. It is NOT the source of her water. It is too low in elevation with respect to her house and for most of the year is a dry creek bed near her house. The source of her water is an unnamed spring creek 175-200 ft. south of Gimlet Cr. Its historical use is documented on the plat as a spring hole easement. As you can see the plat is dated Oct. '74, so its use for a water source certainly pre-dates Oct. '74 and has been in use continuously since Jeanne has owned the land, since March 1977. I regret to call your employee on his/her inaccuracies, there should be no extra charge to Jeanne Bell as her original filing is correct. Your employee should take a course in mapping.

I've lived with Jeanne Bell in that house since May 1979. Currently I am employed by the State of Idaho, Dept. of Transportation as an engineering aide. I do surveying as part of my job. I've been a surveyor since June 1974 - 16 years - and have a great deal of experience making topographic maps and plats. I find the tone of your letter insulting and patronizing. For you to believe an examiner's lousy drawing over residents familiar with the area belies your ignorance and arrogance. It seems you just want to lever an additional tax out of her when you have made a serious mistake. You owe her an apology and your examiner a reprimand. I would not tolerate such an attitude in anyone under me. Please correct yourself quickly.

Yours truly,

Richard J. Wernel
