Re: Thatcher Summit, Inc.

Dear Sir or Madam:

I am the Secretary of Thatcher Summit, Inc., and my son, G. Bryce Thatcher, is the President. I received your letter of April 24, 2008. It was addressed to what has been my home address for over 40 years, namely 239 Mohawk Ave.

Ultimate Direction, Inc. was a family corporation operated by Bryce as President. It bought the property on which buildings were converted to a manufacturing plant and business headquarters on September 6, 1988. A copy of the Bargain and Sale Deed is enclosed as Exhibit "A". The property included the business property, of approximately 4 acres, and adjoining farm ground of 13.68 acres of irrigated agriculture land and .20 acres of waste (see Madison County Assessor Assessment Notice for 2002, enclosed as Exhibit "B"). We enclose as Exhibit "C" a copy of the Ultimate 1997 catalogue which gives some idea of the nature of the Ultimate Business prior to the sale of it.

On May 6, 1999, during the process of selling the Ultimate Business, the corporate name was changed from Ultimate Direction, Inc. to Thatcher Summit, Inc. A copy of Minutes of Special Joint Meeting of Shareholders and Directors, of Ultimate Direction, Inc. is enclosed as Exhibit "D". Enclosed as Exhibit "E" is a copy of the Certificate of the Secretary of State, certifying to the Articles of Amendment changing the name of Ultimate Direction, Inc. To Thatcher Summit, Inc.

Enclosed as Exhibit "F" is a copy of Minutes of Special Joint Meeting of Shareholders and Directors, of Thatcher Summit, Inc., of June 1, 1999, approving the sale of "substantially all assets of Corporation, except for the real estate and certain equipment" to AMERICAN RECREATION PRODUCTS, INC.

Enclosed as Exhibit "G" is a copy of those parts of The Rexburg Standard Journal of April 19, 2000, reporting the closing of Ultimate Direction.

On November 16, 2000, the "Commercial Building (with smaller building) with approximately 4 acres of land" was sold with the express provision "No irrigation water is included in the sale and shall be transferred to Seller's remaining land." See copy of Closing Statement enclosed as Exhibit "H". A copy of Warranty Deed, from "Thatcher Summit, Inc., an Idaho Corporation, formerly known as Ultimate Direction, Inc., of 239 Mohawk Ave., Rexburg, Idaho 83440", as Grantor, is enclosed as Exhibit "I". This included under a "Subject to" clause the following: "[7] no irrigation water rights are included in the sale but Grantor reserves all irrigation water rights".

We enclose as Exhibit "J" copy of note from LaDonna from Fremont-Madison Irrigation District, with "Notice of Assignment of Storage Space and Consent", with my handwritten note: "18 Dec. 2003, Sent minute of name change". Exhibit "K" enclosed is receipt from Fremont-Madison Irrigation District to "Ultimate Direction %Thatcher Summit Inc., 239 Mohawk Av., Rexburg, Id. 83440, for 2003. Exhibit "L" enclosed is receipt from Fremont-Madison Irrigation District to Thatcher Summit Inc., 239 Mohawk Av., Rexburg, Id. 83440, for 2005.

Enclosed as Exhibit "M" is USDA CCC-509 for Thatcher Summit, Inc. for Program Year 2003, dated 28 Feb. 2003l.

I sign this with authority from Thatcher Summit, Inc.

Since this involves a name change and not a transfer we assume we need not complete the complex form nor pay a fee.

Please advise if anything else is needed.

Sincerely,

GELFLASK

Get your gel as fast as hell. Carbohydrate gels are the greatest thing to boost performance since energy bars and replacement drinks. They're also the messiest things. Who wants to deal with used wrappers, sticky stuff on your hands, or squeezing that last blob out while biking or running? Carry up to five servings of gel in a GelFlask and you don't have such worries. The convenient palm-sized flask fits nicely in your hand or pocket, dispenses gel with a special wide, leakproof nozzle. Optional GelFlask Holster mounts on belts and bike bars with Velcro® and secures with a cord-locked bungee.

*WEIGHT 1 oz. (.03 kg)
GEL VOL 4 fl. oz. (120 ml)

GelFlask w/Holster

- 4 oz. translucent GelFlask
- Black Cordura® holster
- Two Velcro® closures attach to bike, belt or shoulder strap
- Flask shock cord

NEW

12 oz. SportFlask

- Contoured to fit the hand
- Dishwasher safe & easy to clean
- High flow push/pull spout

Just right for little sippers.

It's good thing that some great things come in small packages. This new size SportFlask is a perfect full volume bottle for kids, or a half volume one for adults who just want a sip or two. In white only.

*WEIGHT 1.5 oz. (.04 kg)
H2O VOL 12 fl. oz. (350 ml)

*WEIGHT 3 oz. (.06 kg)
H2O VOL 20 fl. oz. (590 ml)

*WEIGHT 3.5 oz. (.1 kg)

SportFlasks

- 20 & 26 oz. sizes,
- Translucent white or granite
- Finger loop & easy grip sides
- Offset, high volume nozzle
- Wide, screw top cap with leakproof seal
- Opening/threads fits many water filters
- Pliable even in cold temperatures
- Dishwasher safe and easy to clean
- Fits standard bottle cages
- Cord hole for more carrying options

SPORTFLASKS

Get a handle on performance hydration in two sizes.

Ultimate SportFlasks are as handy as you can ask for. The finger-loop handle/lid makes it fumble-free when you reach for a drink from a bike bottle cage or pack holster. The large lid screws and unscrews easily and tightly for a confident seal and convenient filling. Feels good in your hand, attaches to most water filters, and built to take the abuse that you'd expect to give a canteen.

Collapsible

54 oz. SportFlask w/ThermoSac

NEW

- Translucent 54 oz. translucent SportFlask
- Side zippered Cordura® ThermoSac
- Removable shoulder strap

Double capacity, collapsible, and easy to carry.

Bigger isn't always better but there are exceptions. Our latest SportFlask is double the capacity of our largest bottle and in collapsible soft plastic to save space. Accepts optional cap & DrinkTube with a SportValve for hands-free drinking. Can be carried with the ThermoSac bottle flask cover on the shoulder with the adjustable and detachable shoulder strap. Also available without ThermoSac.

ROLL-TOP SPORTTANK

You're on a roll with a Roll-Top.

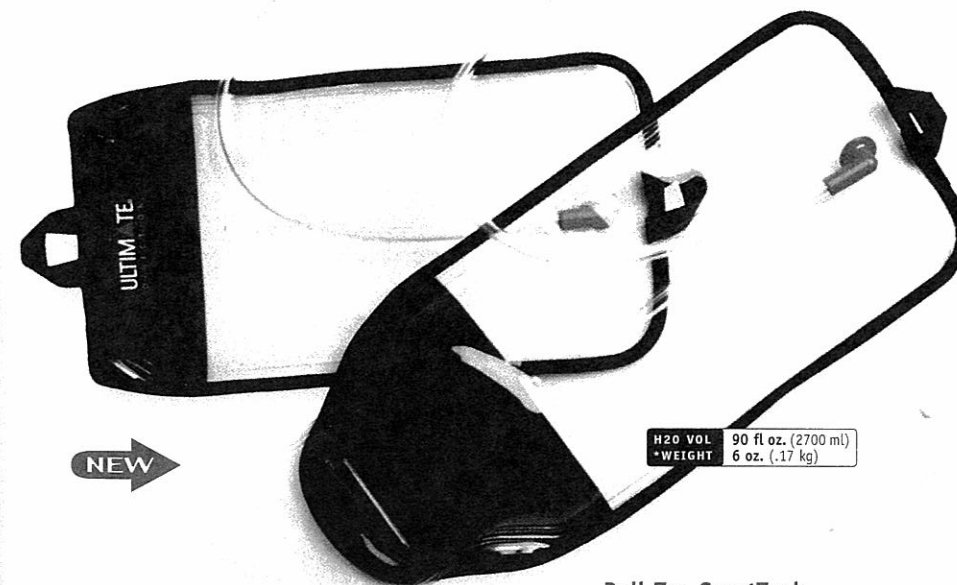

Another innovation by Ultimate, destined to change hydration history. Ease of access and cleaning—not to mention filling—are just a few of the benefits of this SportTank. Add ice cubes if you wish, or powdered sportdrinks without needing a funnel. Quick, easy cleaning and filling. Soon, all bladders will have a similar design.

STANDARD SPORTTANK

82 fluid ounces in a bombproof bladder.

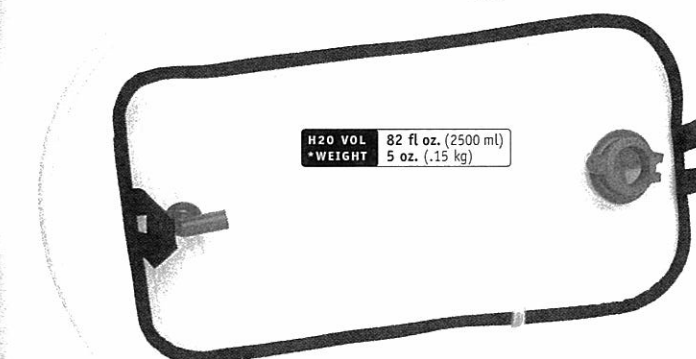

For those who want a traditional closure, we offer this SportTank. Baffled non-sloshing interior of polyurethane with ultrasonic welded seam construction. Drinking is easy with a SportValve and large diameter DrinkTube.

NEW

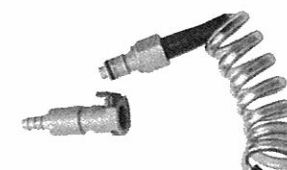

ViperValve

- Attaches directly to push-pull SportValve
- Bite ridges for easy positioning in mouth

VIPERVALVE

Twice the flow while on the go.

Two slits instead of one for increased fluid flow. Fits the SportValve, offering the convenience of on/off. Small ridges allow biting and positioning valve.

QUICKSTRAW

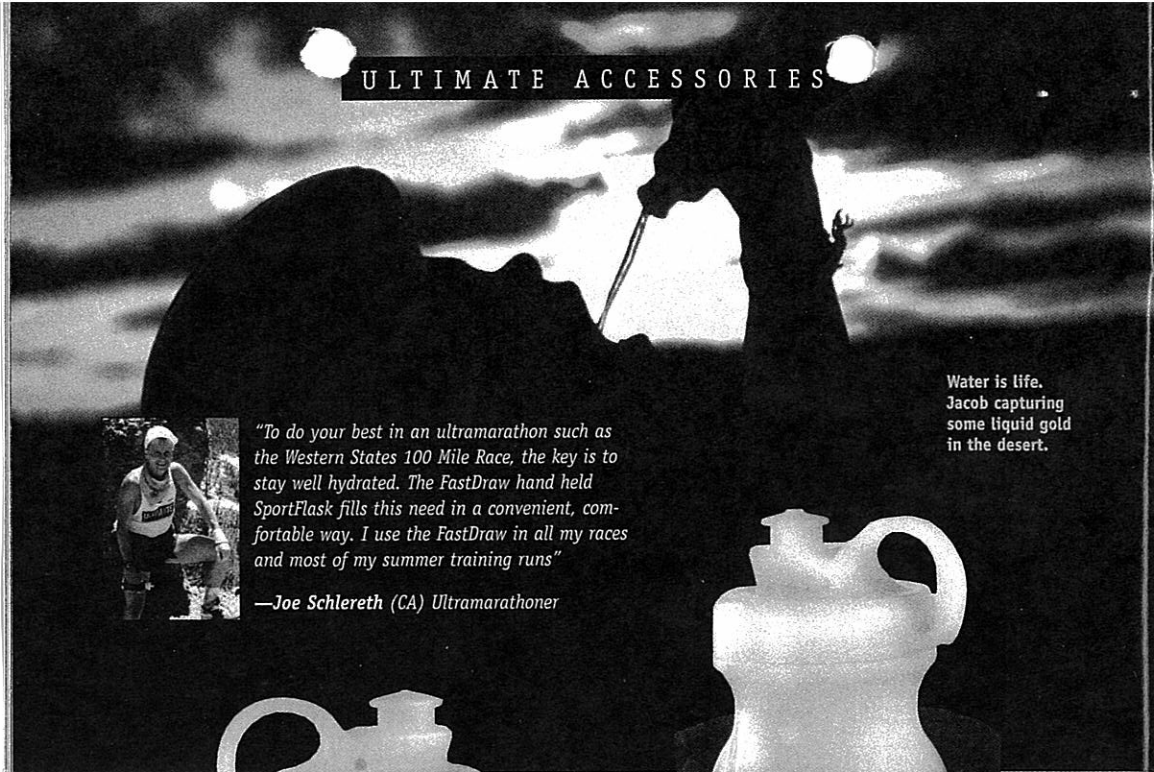

True "hands-free" drinking.

The QuickStraw is a semi-rigid bendable DrinkTube that lets you put the business end of hydration up close and personal. Comes with a ViperValve and special leakproof quick-connections for easy dismounts and refills. Attach this gizmo to your bike or shoulder strap with the special Velcro® straps and you're ready to power-sip with just a nod of your head.

Slide some extra hydration on your TorsoBelt. Extra bottle holsters are a perfect addition to any TorsoPac waistbelt to increase your fluid capacity. Velcro® security strap for keeping your SportFlask in its place. Foam insulation keeps the contents cool and secure. 20 oz. SportFlask included.

"Hydration is a key factor to performance in endurance competitions. Ultimate Direction products make it possible for athletes to maintain proper fluid levels. For quick access on the run, the Elite and FastDraws are important tools that assist me in keeping a competitive edge during training and competitions."

—Mark A. Godale (OH)
[800m - 50 miles, Marathoner/Ultra-Runner]

Details, details. The devil is in them, and so is heaven. Great thought should go into small things like accessories because they make a big difference in fine-tuning a pack to work for you, providing little comforts during the rigors of extended exercise. Endurance training and competition can be heaven with (or hell without) accessories.

CAMERA/SUNGLASSES POUCH

Made for your shades and more. Think hip. Think modular. Think of all the places you could put these pouches on your TorsoPac. Great for cameras, sunglasses, lenses, etc. Soft foam and tough Cordura® team up to hold their own and yours under years of use. In black only, with Velcro® closure.

Camera/Sunglasses Pouch

- Cordura® & laminated foam
- Velcro® closure
- Slides on waist belt (2" max.)

ULTIMATE TORSOPACS

Ultimate Direction products have been mandatory for me. They are functional and easy to use. My TorsoPacs and SportFlasks have run higher on earth than anyone else's; training at altitudes of 18,000+ and a 2nd place at the World's Highest Marathon. Simplicity is the key to staying hydrated while in a state of hypoxia, and Ultimate Products have always been there for me, even when my mind was elsewhere.

—Rob Reece
High Altitude Endurance Runner

TREKKER

More than a hip pack. It's large, technical and very popular. With a Trekker, you have two SportFlasks to go the distance and a large center bag—divided into two separate zippered compartments—perfect for whatever you choose to carry. A compression strap keeps cargo in place while the EvaporAide TorsoBelt System keeps you cool. Because balance and range of motion are unhindered, the Trekker has long been a universal favorite. Bigger capacity, insulated bottle holsters, stow-away belt and a shoulder strap make this a year-round, hard working TorsoPac.

CAPACITY	620 cu in. (10 l)
*WEIGHT	26 oz. (.7 kg)
H2O VOL	40 fl oz. (1180 ml)

Trekker

- Doubles as hip pack & shoulder bag
- Large grab loop, removable shoulder strap, stowaway belt
- Dual zipper center pouch & expandable outside pocket
- Jacket and compression straps
- Spiral scalloped, insulated holsters with bottle security straps
- Twin pockets on EvaporAide TorsoBelt
- Two 20 oz. SportFlasks included

UltimateTorsoPacs are for everyone. They started the revolution in sports hydration and still provide the widest variety of drinking and comfort options of any pack series. They are the standards that have launched a plethora of imitations. We are flattered by the mimicry, but not impressed. Remember, if it doesn't say TorsoPac, it's not. The knock-offs don't measure up to our standards, and won't to yours. TorsoPacs provide the capacity and flexibility to match your hydration needs and athletic performance.

RACER

When a little is all you need.

There are times when you don't need very much water. Just a few mouthfuls to get you thru that cottonmouth section of your daily 5k. For those times, this is your pack. A slim, trim version of the Competitor.

Includes our new 12 ounce SportFlask.

COMPETITOR

The original bottle pack.

Still racing after all these years.

Meet the pack that started a revolution in sports hydration and continues to beat all imitations. No passing fad, the Competitor is an equipment staple for runners, nordic skiers, cyclists, rowers and walkers. Wise athletes know constant hydration is vital for comfort, peak performance and low stress. The Competitor fits any size waist, and the foam insulated holster keeps fluids cool and refreshing. A 20 ounce SportFlask is included—the best sports water bottle made.

SOLITAIRE

More than a single pack. Much more.

If you like to carry more than a Solo can provide, use the Solitaire. You can be comfortable, travel light and get more out of your excursions.

A clever removable pouch on the back of the holster holds your extra items and compresses for a bounce-free ride.

Like the Gemini, the Solitaire can customized with additional holsters and pouches.

CAPACITY 100 cu in. (2 l)
*WEIGHT 10 oz. (.3 kg)

Solitaire

- Spiral scalloped, insulated holster
- Versatile 4" w x 2.5" d x 7.5" h pouch with two zippered pockets
- Pouch compression strap
- Adjustable hip belt
- Single 20 oz. SportFlask included

SOLO

Simply comfy, stylish & functional.

For the person who wants solid performance plus a few added perks, the Solo makes a great partner. Here's why: the mesh back provides a stable base for the holster and the zippered sides hold keys, snack food, or lip balm. Foam insulation in the holster keeps your fluids chilled on hot days and the elastic security strap at the top gives your bottle a supportive hug. Value-added sports hydration never looked better.

TAILWIND

Need reliable support? Take it with you with a Tailwind.

The extra pockets add 1000 cu. inches to this tanker, making it a versatile candidate for climbing, hiking, biking and skiing. With a 90 oz. RollTop SportTank (included) you can travel with just what you need and most of what you want. This pack opens the door to longer excursions and stronger ambitions.

In marathon cross country skiing, TorsoPacs are as indispensable as wax is to skis. Without a way to stay hydrated a body just isn't going to maintain that fun factor for long. TorsoPacs are lightweight, easy to use, comfortable and quickly accessible. We can't do without them. Prior to a race, we ask ourselves; "Skis, boots, poles, TorsoPacs?"

—Jane Stevenson and Chris Ransom

Champions

On 50 mile training runs in the high country of Yosemite, Kings Canyon or Sequoia National Park, I need a pack that allows me to carry everything I could need for 12-14 hours. The Tailwind, with TorsoLink Suspension, is the pack for such long runs. It has the capacity and flexibility I need, yet comfortable enough to keep me running all day.

Hydration and enough room for survival gear is what kept the Nimbus #1 for Synter and I in 1996 with 815 race miles.

The Nimbus™ allows me to drink a lot more between Vet checks, the easy access front pockets work great for vet cards and Power Bars®, the pack itself is large enough for the most important survival gear. I wouldn't be caught without it.

ULTRAFAST TORSOPACS

Taking the high road in another world, another desert slot canyon (where the water is colder and deeper than it looks).

UltraFast TorsoPacs are no ordinary bladder-type hydration packs. They are designed with the exclusive Ultimate TorsoLink Suspension System. That means shoulder straps move independently to follow your shoulders and torso, while maintaining support and stability to the load linked to the waist. If you ski, climb, fastpack or scramble with a pack on your back, chances are you'll be using your arms as God intended but as most packs were never designed to assist. Ultimate puts a new twist in freedom of movement with the TorsoLink System. It's fun. It's what makes wearing our packs seem like you're not.

TRAILDANCE

For serious dayhikers and spartan fastpackers.

Can a pack be somewhere between a daypack and a multi? Can a dayhike have enough mileage to be two? Can a fastpacker have bottles and bladders for fluids? If you answer yes, the answer to your needs is a TrailDance. You're ripped and ready to put some miles behind you with this pack. With 1000 cubic inches of very selective space, you know just what you need and what you don't. TrailDance is ready to tango with twin 26 oz. SportFlasks (included) in scalloped holsters. The internal SportTank slot (SportTank not included) will double the hydration odds in your favor. TorsoLink takes the movement in stride and a Delrin® rod maintains the pack shape even when it's overloaded over the longhaul.

CLOUDBURST

A breakthrough, and a break with traditional hipsters.

The bigger the bag on the hips, the more weight on them and the tougher the tug of gravity. To stabilize and minimize the wig-wag and bobbing of a larger load we've added the missing link: TorsoLink Suspension System. The secret of all shoulder strap packs by Ultimate, TorsoLink moves with the upper torso while the load stays stable and in place. The yoke is adjustable and lined with Coolmax® for comfort. The EvapoAide belt makes the miles fly by with aggressive loads in this 800 cubic inch capacity ultrafast TorsoPac. Includes a 54 fl.oz. SportFlask and DrinkTube with SportValve.

"It's rare to find gear that actually enhances your performance and takes it to another level. Ultimate Direction products allow me to fastpack at my peak by allowing me to easily stay hydrated, reach needed gear with ease, and not waste energy. There is something to be said for peace of mind from knowing you are using the best product available". —Dan Braun, mountain guide & fastpacker UltraFast Torsopacs are weapons for hyperactive backpackers. That may sound like a contradiction in terms, but there are a growing number of hyperfit hardheads, called fastpackers, who love exploring the backcountry trails like a bullet train. These packs are trim, cut to allow maximum flexibility and efficiency, and have a bias for balance at vigorous speeds. If you're bent on doing 25-40 miles a day, massive and continuous fluid/fuel intake for hours and days is a must. UltraFast Torsopacs are built for the extra effort and capacities that fastpacking demands.

CRANKN'TANX

Cyclists are a demanding crowd. They want to drink fluids while they work up a sweat but want their hands free to do other life-saving things like steering and braking. Crankn'Tanx are the Ultimate answer to the needs of riders who want hydration packs that stay in place, don't irritate the back, neck & shoulders, and deliver cool, life-giving water without fail. Life's a grind. Keep cool.

"I have been using the XSpurt Ultimate Direction pack this past year for mountain bike competition and have loved it! I can store any tools I need, my pump and food in the pack easily. Depending on the race, I will use all 84-ounces of water and can drink easily through the two-hole mouth piece. The XSpurt has taken me to the top of the podium in most of my races this year, notably the Deer Valley National Race and at the National Championships at Mammoth, CA!"

SKEETER

Start drinking early. As soon as they can walk. Small legs, feet, hands. Big strides, ambitions, thirsts. Kids know when it's time to drink. If they know where to get water, they won't mind carrying it with a Skeeter strapped to their waist. Built to fit the hands, waists and mindsets of the next generation of endurance athletes.

STRIDER

Extra capacity for the young & the restless. Kids love pockets. Places to put all that top-secret kid stuff. Strider has pouches for several puzzlers or a pretty big mystery. What they collect is the question, the path they travel is the answer. Strider is the perfect companion.

SCRAMBLER

Helps them get the most out of a day and a dayhike. Wow. Torsopacs made for kid torsos. And bottles designed by kids for kids. Do you think kids will go for it? They already have! The Scrambler gives them the basics for daylong adventure and comfort. Two 12 oz. bottles, room to grow, and a way to take it with them.

EXPLORER

Kids are natural explorers. They collect stuff. This one can take it. Kids are smart. They know a good thing when they see it. They are intuitive about what to do and how to use a pack like the Explorer. They can see how well it fits them before they put it on. Let them fill the bottles, fill the pockets and go discover how far, how steep, how wide and how wonderful the world really is. Available in Large and Small size.

After ten years of making products for adults who play as hard as kids, we discovered kids were playing just as hard with products designed for adults. We decided it was time they were compensated. TrailPals are as tough as all Ultimate gear. It has to be—after all, we're talking kids here. They wear-test the limits with every waking moment. They don't pamper anything. But kids don't stay kids for long. They grow up fast, but perhaps using TrailPals as a kid will keep the child alive in a future adult.

"Lately I've been using the the new SportVest and find it irreplaceable. I did an 8-hour backcountry ski with the vest filled to capacity. Between water, XL-1, GelFlasks, extra hats, gloves, shovel, skins and camera, I had 20 lbs on my back. The vest distributed the weight throughout my body so well, I couldn't tell that I was carrying such a large load and had no restricted movement. The water stayed warm and the line never froze, allowing me to stay hydrated throughout the journey. With other packs, I always had to stop to get at the water or food. Now I just reach for the SportValve or GelFlask and keep going."

ARCTICA

Winter won't freeze your block off with this core heater.

Winter hydration is harder to achieve (and perhaps more important) than summer hydration because the drinking tube freezes-up, and the lungs need extra water to warm and moisturize the cold, dry winter air during vigorous outdoor exercise. You may not feel as hot as in summer, but you're using more fluids. Crazy, but it's true. Be sane. Be comfortable. Be properly hydrated with the Arctica. PolarTec® fleece-lined for comfort, insulation, and that warm-fuzzy feeling when you blow past the competition. RollTop SportTank included.

XODUS

A little less vest for a very good reason.

(ex-o-dus) Sometimes, less is more. In this case, more room for cyclists and rowers to bend forward on their handlebars and oars without fabric scrunching up and interfering with normal breathing. The shortened front fits above paddlesport sprayskirts as well.

The best thing about the Xodus is how seamless it feels, like nothing at all.

An un-pack. To be seen, but not felt. (We'll take that as a compliment.) Xodus is equipped with a RollTop SportTank and includes the ViperValve.

SPORTVESTS

SportVests are the latest thing in hydration and comfort for such activities as biking, boating, running, x-c skiing, and snowshoeing. Think of a SportVest as extra pockets to hold your stuff when you don't have pockets and you need freedom of movement over the long-haul. Photographers and flyfishermen have known this for years, such vests are not just stylish, but standard equipment. Because the weight is dispersed evenly, any load is a seamless, gentle hug instead of a nagging reminder on your neck & shoulders or a pinching belt on your waistline. SportVests come in three models for your extended comfort and enhanced performance in all four seasons.

AQUIFER

Heat tested, made to keep you and your fluids cool.

It's easy to see what the Aquifer is all about: coolness, convenience, hydration. Less obvious is what the Aquifer is not: a waist or hip-mounted pack. Just a gentle hug over your upper torso with pockets and places to hold your fuels, tools, clothes and fluids. If you're a belly-breather, you'll love this piece of gear. It's high-tech, high-performance sports hydration apparel. It's going to be fashionable in the near future, so why not start now and stay ahead of the curve? Comes with a RollTop SportTank. Learning How To Play Again

Human inspiration appears in many forms, coming from unlikely places, unexpectedly. Often, the most natural solutions to problems are the simple ones hiding just under our noses.

Take children, for example. They play for performance and the pure joy of movement. They don't let their own shortcomings get in the way of having a good time. They aren't intimidated or held back by what they don't know. They're brave. Their expectations are larger than life because they are life. Full of hope and daring, they rush to meet each day and every hour with the promise of new truths, testing limits, and revealed potential.

Adults could learn from kids. It's not that easy. First, you have to unlearn a few things to discover how to learn again. And vice versa. As the author and climber Leon Sinclair once said, "you really don't teach adults to climb, you just help them remember what they always knew how to do as kids."

Is that what it's all about? Keeping the child alive in all of us? We think so. Each trail run, bike ride, ski tour and outdoor activity is (and should be) a new discovery. The next last chance to chase after—and realize—our full potential. And like a boundless, irrepressible kid, our potential grows and seeks to find it's ultimate destiny.

We've been inspired to make changes this year. We started with our logo, and moved on up the line. We've added TrailPals, products for kids who play as serious as adults, SportVests for adults who play as hard as kids, and surprises in every category. Our new GelFlask answers the purist racer's need for speed with carbohydrate gels, and the RollTop SportTank keeps your hydration source hygienic and worry-free.

Hanging with kids has opened our eyes a little wider, made us work a little longer, play a little better. We hope you'll use our products to go discover, or rediscover, your potential.

It's time to stop acting like an adult, start playing like a kid.

MINUTES OF SPECIAL JOINT MEETING
OF SHAREHOLDERS AND DIRECTORS
Ultimate Direction, Inc.

A special joint meeting of shareholders and directors of ULTIMATE DIRECTION, INC., was held at the corporate offices, 1488 North Salem Road, Rexburg, Idaho 83440 on May 6, 1999. All shareholders and directors were present in person or by written ratification.

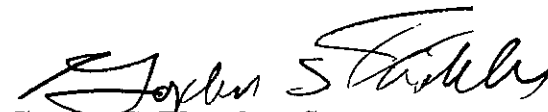

There was presented to the meeting a proposal that the name of the corporation be changed from Ultimate Direction, Inc. to Thatcher Summit, Inc. This is necessary to facilitate the pending transaction for sale of certain assets of Ultimate Direction, Inc., including the corporate name, to American Recreation Products, Inc. On motion duly made and seconded it was unanimously resolved by all directors and by all shareholders representing all of the 774 outstanding shares of stock in the corporation, that the name be changed and the President and Secretary be authorized and directed executed and file with the Secretary of State, State of Idaho, Articles of Amendment to the Articles of Incorporation of Ultimate Direction, Inc.

There was next presented to the meeting a proposal that the corporation, after approval of its change of name, file with the Secretary of State, State of Idaho, a Certificate of Assumed Business Name, showing that it does business under the assumed name of "Ultimate Direction". It was reported that the pending sales transaction with American Recreation Products, Inc. includes corporation continuing for a time, during a transition period, to use the name "Ultimate Direction" in connection with continuing its manufacturing operations. Such Certificate shall be executed and filed after confirmation of the name change is received from the Secretary of State. After the transition period is completed the Certificate of Assumed Business Name shall be canceled. On motion duly made and seconded the proposed resolution was adopted by unanimous vote of directors and by unanimous vote of the shareholders of corporation.

There being no further business before the meeting the same was on motion duly adjourned.

DATED This 6th day of May, 1999.

MINUTES OF SPECIAL JOINT MEETING
OF SHAREHOLDERS AND DIRECTORS
Thatcher Summit, Inc.

A special joint meeting of shareholders and directors of THATCHER SUMMIT, INC., formerly Ultimate Direction, Inc., was held at the home of Gordon S. Thatcher, 239 Mohawk Ave., Rexburg, Idaho, on June 1, 1999. All shareholders and directors were present in person or by written ratification.

It was reported to the meeting that the Articles of Amendment to the Articles of Incorporation, changing the name of the corporation from Ultimate Direction, Inc., to Thatcher Summit, Inc. had been filed with the Secretary of State, State of Idaho, on May 10, 1999. On motion duly made and seconded it was unanimously resolved by shareholders and directors that [1] the By-Laws be amended to show the change of corporate name; [2] that the issued share certificates have the new name affixed thereto; and [3] that a new corporate seal be obtained.

There was next submitted to the meeting a proposal that substantially all the assets of Corporation, except for the real estate and certain equipment, be sold to AMERICAN RECREATION PRODUCTS, INC., a Delaware Corporation ("Buyer"); that Corporation enter into a contract with Buyer to manufacture products for Buyer for compensation with its retained equipment and at the real estate owned by Corporation; and that G. Bryce Thatcher be approved to work as a full time employee for American Recreation Products, Inc. There were reviewed proposed "Agreement for the Purchase and Sale of the Assets of Ultimate Direction, Inc.", together with Schedules and ancillary documents, which are identified on a list of "Closing Documents", dated May 28, 1999, to be attached hereto; "Contract Services Agreement"; and "Employment Agreement" by G. Bryce Thatcher with American Recreation Products, Inc. On joint motion of shareholders and directors, duly made and seconded, it was unanimously resolved:

A. G. Bryce Thatcher, as President of Thatcher Summit, Inc., is authorized and directed to sign for Thatcher Summit, Inc., in three copies, the "Agreement for the Purchase and Sale of the Assets of Ultimate Direction, Inc.", and to initial all Schedules and ancillary documents, attached thereto; to execute in three copies, the "Contract Services Agreement"; and to execute in three copies the ancillary documents, including "General Assignment and Bill of Sale"; "Intellectual Property Assignments"; and "Agreement Assignments".

B. G. Bryce Thatcher is authorized to enter the "Employment Agreement" with American Recreation Products, Inc. He is further authorized to provide services for Thatcher Summit, Inc., on a part-time basis so as to not interfere with his work for American Recreation Products, Inc.

C. G. Bryce Thatcher, as President, and Gordon S. Thatcher, as Secretary and General Counsel for Thatcher Summit, Inc., are authorized and directed to close the transaction for Corporation including taking all steps necessary and sign additional documents as needed to implement the agreements and perform the contract for Corporation.

D. During the negotiations for the purchase, following the execution of a letter of intent, Gordon S. Thatcher, personally loaned money to Corporation, evidenced by promissory notes, to enable it to continue its operations pending the execution of the formal contract and the closing of the sale with American Recreation Products, Inc. As part of the agreement for sale G. Bryce Thatcher, Suzette S. Thatcher, Gordon S. Thatcher and Beth P. Thatcher have signed a Guaranty with the American Recreation Products, Inc., and performance of the Guaranty is secured by an $80,000 debt, plus accruing interest, owing by American Recreation Products, Inc. to Gordon S. Thatcher. Corporation covenants, agrees and guarantees that the debt owing Gordon S. Thatcher by American Recreation Products, Inc., will be paid when due and that G. Bryce Thatcher, Suzette S. Thatcher, Gordon S. Thatcher and Beth P. Thatcher will be held harmless of liability to American Recreation Products, Inc. on their Guaranty.

There being no further business before the meeting the same was on motion duly adjourned.

DATED This 1st day of June, 1999.

would be made by piece workers,

Ultimate Direction closing, workers laid off

By J.D. EDLEFSEN
Staff writer

About 30 employees got the word Monday: the Ultimate Direction factory where they work north of Rexburg is closing the end of this month.

After 12 years in Rexburg, the firm is contracting with an off-shore company to make its elite athlete gear more cheaply in order to compete in today's global marketplace, says company co-founder Bryce Thatcher of Rexburg.

"What it comes down to is dollars and cents," Thatcher says. "The company can produce it cheaper elsewhere." Ultimate Direction was purchased last year by outdoor equipment giant Sierra Designs based in Oakland, Calif. Thatcher stayed on with the company as a research and design guru.

Starting in May, the company's line of hydration sports gear will be produced in the Philippines through a contract with a Korean company, Thatcher says.

He says he spent 10 days at the Philippine factory this month. Workers there receive the equivalent of $2.50 to $4 a day for a 10-hour day.

"It's not a sweat shop," he says. "They don't employ anyone under 18 and most of the employees are between 18 and 30. It's a well-lit, new, air-conditioned, nice environment."

He says their equipment isn't as automated or modern as in the factory north of Rexburg. But with labor costs so cheap, automation isn't as important.

The industry has "turned very global," he says. And when he and his wife, Suzette, sold the company they started in April 1986 to Sierra Designs, he was beginning then to see the trend.

"I just didn't think it would be so soon," he says. Just two major outdoor equipment companies continue to manufacture their products in the United States, he says - Osprey in Colorado and Mystery Mountain in Bozeman, Mont. "Most others have made the shift already."

In the industry, competition "has become really strong," he says. When he and his wife started the company, they were the first to incorporate hydration into the design. "That's not a novel idea any more," he says. To compete, the company had kept its prices at about the same level for the past four years, despite increases in labor and other production costs.

"Sierra Designs really wanted to make a go of it here," Thatcher says. They even gave him the option of making the Rexburg factory a contract shop where the product would be made by piece workers, but "I just couldn't do it," he says. When he added it all up, the option just didn't make financial sense.

With production costs 20 percent cheaper overseas, "I knew it eventually was going away," he says of the factory. "I just didn't think the overseas factory would come up to speed as fast as it did to meet our quality (requirements)."

Thatcher says he spent most of Tuesday trying to find leads on other companies that might want to relocate their operations to Rexburg and hire Ultimate Direction's laid off workers.

His second goal is to find someone to buy or rent the factory building, and possibly open a company that might help employ workers. He says he's been working with Job Service and the Idaho Department of Labor to find out what programs might be available for the laid-off workers.

"Because they are being displaced by overseas workers, there is state and federal money available" for training to develop new skills, Thatcher says. Many may qualify to receive unemployment while they are going to Eastern Idaho Technical College in Idaho Falls or Ricks College in Rexburg to train for new careers.

"A lot of the people are sad but at the same time excited at the number of programs available to help them change careers," Thatcher says.

At the end of April, most of the production workers will be out of a job. A couple of people have been offered jobs at company headquarters in Oakland, and the production manager has accepted that offer and will move. Thatcher will be moving early this summer to St. George, Utah, where Sierra Designs owns a 196,000 square foot warehouse building. His assistant has been offered a chance to join him there. The company moved its warehouse operation for Ultimate Direction to St. George earlier this year.

No production jobs will stay in the United States except for those connected to the company's water bladder welding machine, which will be moved to St. George facility at the end of May. The fate of the three employees that work in that department still is undecided, he says.

If the building and equipment haven't been sold, the company is contemplating an auction at the site in late May.

Ultimate Direction has employed a lot of people in the 12 years it has been located in Rexburg, his home town, Thatcher says. He's proud of the operation he and his wife moved from New Hampshire to Rexburg in August 1988.

For a time, they operated a branch company in South Dakota. But they sold that and moved all of the production operation to Rexburg. The company secured a loan from the city of Rexburg's Revolving Loan Fund to help upgrade the building for the factory and have been actively involved in the community, helping to sponsor sports events and other activities.

Reflecting on the factory closing to keep costs down in order to compete, Thatcher says it's sad. "We all like a good deal. People want quality, but at a good price."

He says he'll be leaving friends and family with mixed emotions. "But it just makes good business sense. One of my faults all along is I'm more of a people person. I didn't look at the bottom line."

Property, Option, Closing and Possession

Property: Commercial Building (with smaller building) with approximately 4 acres of land, at address known as 1488 North Salem Road, Rexburg, Idaho 83440.

Property and conditions are described on Warranty Deed from Seller to Buyers and on Warranty Deed from Buyers to Acquirers, dated November 16, 2000.

Option: As part of the sale Seller is granting to Buyers an "Option to Purchase" approximately five (5) acres extending from the property sold East to the railroad right-of-way. This Option is for $20,000.00 an acre and expires on May 31, 2002.

Because this is part of the I.R.C. § 1031 exchange between Buyers and Acquirers, for simplicity and clarity the written Option to Purchase, dated November 16, 2000, runs directly from Seller to Acquirers.

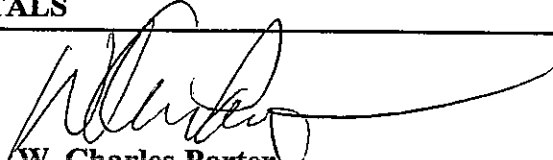

Closing: November 16, 2000, 9:00 a.m. at law offices of RIGBY, THATCHER, ANDRUS, RIGBY, KAM & MOELLER, Chartered, 25 North Second East, Rexburg, Idaho 83440, Closing Attorneys.

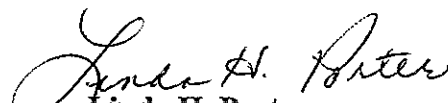

Possession: Acquirers have had limited possession and upon completion of closing shall have full possession of the property. Risk of loss by fire or other casualty passes to Acquirers upon closing. If the insurance policy on the premises may be transferred by Seller to Acquirers, this shall be done on closing and Acquirers shall pay to Seller outside of closing an amount equal to any unearned premium to which Seller is entitled.

7. OWNER'S CERTIFICATION

I understand that by signing this form I have made the base and yield elections for Direct and Counter-Cyclical Program (DCP) purposes for the farm serial number in Item 4. I have considered all available options for this farm, including any selection of subsequent crop history, if applicable, and have elected base and yield methods that result in the base and yield information as shown in Item 6 above.

I also understand that this is a one-time opportunity and that all owners on this farm must make the same elections by signing the form CCC-515, on or before April 1, 2003. In the event that one or more owners of this farm fail to make an election by April 1, 2003, or if all elections are made but are not all the same, I understand that this form is null and void, and that base and yield options that would otherwise be available on the farm are limited significantly, in accordance with the Farm Security and Rural Investment Act of 2002, (Pub. L. 107-171), and with the federal regulations at 7 CFR Part 1412.
