Rex:

I just left you a voicemail message. I am following up with this email in response to your April 4 email comments on this proposed transfer.

The transfer includes rights 63-144A and 63-144C diverted through the Graham-Gilbert Ditch. Transfer approval will include conditions requiring controllable and measurable diversion works at the river headgate to comply with standard Watermaster controls as you noted. Transfer approval will also require similar controls to provide Watermaster control over any water withdrawn from the proposed ponds (continued irrigation for remaining lands, for example).

You mentioned "access through the subdivision" and "access code for the coded gate." Although the department does not include that type of detailed information in the transfer conditions of approval, you can be assured you will have that access and/or necessary code information to carry out your duties.

If problems develop with respect to those items, the department will assist you in whatever way it can to compel the necessary cooperation. Adequate statutory authority already exists that we can call on if needed.

I don't think there will be problems in this regard but please don't hesitate to contact this office if the unexpected does happen.

Thank you for your comments in this application. And congratulations on your election and appointment as Boise River Watermaster.
