Re: license review

Keith Franklin, from IDWR northern region, had reviewed the field exam, created the POD and POU shapes and corrected the data entry to fit the conditions present at the time of the field exam.

The POU area Keith identified is larger than the permitted acreage amount. When I asked him about it, he explained that he chose to define a larger parcel for the POU because the field exam did not clearly define the location of the three irrigated acres. He suggested that the water right allow three acres of irrigation somewhere within the larger POU and I have set this license to conform with his suggestion.

The field exam lists two POD for this water right, however, I kept only one in the license. The Shobes have permission to divert water from a conveyance ditch that passes their property. I found that the POD located in govt lot 3 is where the conveyance ditch begins and the POD in govt lot 4 is where the Shobes tap into the ditch. I kept the POD at the ditch origin in the license and excluded the POD which flanks the Shobe property.
